Abstract

A checklist of the grasses of India is presented, as compiled from survey of all available literature. Of the twelve subfamilies of grasses, ten are represented in India. Most subfamilies have been examined by taxonomic experts for up-to-date nomenclature. The list includes 1506 species plus infraspecific taxa and presents information on types, synonyms, distribution within India, and habit. Twelve new combinations are made, viz. Arctopoa tibetica (Munro ex Stapf) Prob. var. aristulata (Stapf) E.A. Kellogg, comb. nov.; Chimonocalamus nagalandianus (H.B. Naithani) L.G. Clark, comb. nov.; Chionachne digitata (L.f.) E.A. Kellogg, comb. nov.; Chionachne wallichiana (Nees) E.A. Kellogg, comb. nov.; Dinebra polystachyos (R. Br.) E.A. ## Introduction

The following is a checklist of the grasses of India, produced as part of the Plants of India project. The grass family has been the subject of two major new classifications, Kellogg (2015b) and Soreng et al. (2015, 2017), based on phylogenetic data. Even before these appeared, molecular phylogenies had resolved circumscription of the subfamilies and there has been general agreement for at least the last 15 years on the monophyly of the major subfamilies. Nearly all known genera have been firmly assigned to subfamily and a large majority to tribe. Division into subtribes remains an item of discussion in some groups.

The two current classifications are quite similar, which is not surprising since they are based on the same underlying data and phylogenies. Many of the differences reflect simply different preferences for classification. Kellogg (2015b) generally avoids mono-generic tribes or subtribes on the grounds that they convey no phylogenetic information and are unnecessary. This means that, while all genera are assigned to subfamily, the smaller subfamilies (e.g. Pharoideae) are not divided into tribes. In contrast, Soreng et al. (2015, 2017) prefer consistency in the use of ranks throughout the classification, meaning that all subfamilies include tribes, even if or when the tribes are unnecessary from the point of view of identification or phylogeny. The same arguments apply to subtribes. The Soreng et al. (2015, 2017) classification is thus more split than Kellogg (2015b). In addition, there are a few differences in generic circumscription. Because Kellogg (2015b) appeared in book form, it really represents the state of data a couple of years earlier, whereas Soreng et al. (2017) includes more recent information.

All grass subfamilies are represented in India except for Anomochlooideae, which is found only in the New World, and Puelioideae, which is restricted to Africa. We follow Kellogg (2015b) in using italics in the taxonomic descriptions to indicate putative synapomorphies (shared derived characters) indicating monophyly of the described group. Numbers of tribes and genera are listed in Table 1. This list includes 266 genera, representing about a third of the 711 (Kellogg 2015b) to 768 (Soreng et al. 2017) genera currently recognized in the family.

Many of the tribes and subfamilies have been checked by taxonomic experts and those experts are acknowledged in the appropriate section. Because of in some cases considerable time elapsed between the review of the list and the current publication, recent taxonomic changes may have been missed. Most nomenclatural information is consistent with that in the Tropicos database (<http://www.tropicos.org>), but the synonymy is not fully consistent with that in GrassBase (Clayton et al. 2006 onwards).

The compilation presented here is meant to be a starting point for future work, which requires detailed mapping and verification with herbarium material. Distribu-

Table 1. The ten subfamilies of grasses represented in the flora of India, showing numbers of tribes, genera, and species recorded in India for each. Tribes are not recognized here for Pharoideae and Aristidoideae because they are redundant, nor for Micrairoideae and Arundinoideae because the number of genera is too small to require tribal designations. Two hundred sixty-six genera have been recorded for the country, representing about 1/3 of the total in the family.

Subfamily	Tribes	Genera	Species + subspecies + varieties
Pharoideae	(1, redundant)	1	1
Bambusoideae	2 (of 3)	32	148
Oryzoideae	3 (of 3)	6	29
Pooideae	8 (of 11)	70	383
Aristidoideae	(1, redundant)	2	15
Panicoideae	6 (of 8)	98	668
Danthonioideae	(1, redundant)	3	5
Chloridoideae	5 (of 5)	43	201
Micrairoideae	(4, not recognized here)	7	50
Arundinoideae	(2, not recognized here)	4	6

tions within India are compiled from a broad range of sources only some of which included specimen citations to support their claims of geographical distribution. All distribution records should thus be considered provisional. Of particular note is the work of Naithani (1990), which added many new distribution records but largely without documentation. When Naithani (1990) is the only source for a record, this is noted in the text. We have avoided use of the term “endemic” since endemism is hard to verify in the absence of extensive herbarium material. Synonyms are ones that have been used in the Indian literature in the past. Some of these are New World names and are included here as a way to be able to follow up older Indian literature.

India is the most poorly studied of all subcontinents for grasses. The country has been largely inaccessible to foreign botanists for the last several decades and the revolution in molecular systematics has largely missed Indian grasses because of the near-impossibility of obtaining material. We present this list in hopes of showing the richness of the grass flora and the discoveries to be made.

Background and methods

The objective of the overall project is to produce an authenticated and authoritative digital list of vascular plants of India, both native and naturalized. This list is to include all taxa of seed plants with their accepted names, synonyms, author names, publication details, habit, and distribution ranges. It has been a major task to coalesce the available taxonomic information into a unified list of names representing India’s plant diversity. Doing so required a significant amount of effort and time to compile the information in source materials and produce a functional list. Despite its tentative nature, this list contains the best information available for many groups, and is likely to find diverse uses and applications.

The current checklist has resulted from collaboration between the Ashoka Trust for Research in Ecology and the Environment (ATREE), the Missouri Botanical Garden (MBG), and Harvard University Herbaria (HUH). In mid-1990s, prior to the present collaboration, Dr. K.N. Ganeshiah of the University of Agricultural Sciences, Bangalore and Dr. Sebastian Padayatty of Shaman Scientific, Bangalore, along with Kanchi N. Gandhi of the HUH, were independently compiling data on plant names for a checklist of vascular plants of India. Dr. Peter H. Raven (MBG) and Dr. Kamal Bawa (ATREE) organized a meeting of relevant staff from the two teams at the Missouri Botanical Garden in 2002. At this meeting, it was agreed that a team would compile the available data at ATREE, the nomenclature would be verified at the Harvard University Herbaria, and taxonomic revision would be carried out by specialists under the guidance of Dr. Raven. The Sehgal Family Foundation, a previous donor to both ATREE and MBG, provided the initial funds for preparing a comprehensive list of India's plants.

National and international botanical journals, floras, manuals, monographs, and revisionary works were reviewed, with the data compiled by a team of energetic staff members under the supervision of the late Dr. S. N. I. Yoganarasimhan (1944–2017). At the HUH, Gandhi received a copy of the data that had been compiled at ATREE and verified the nomenclature over a period almost 6 years (2007–2013). Initially, two assistants, Mr. Uttam B. Shrestha (a Ph.D. student of Dr. Bawa) and Mr. B. R. Kailash (ATREE staff) worked under the supervision of Gandhi; later Uttam's wife Sujata Shrestha also joined the crew for a few months.

Regardless of the status of a name (accepted or synonym), an effort was made to check each protologue to verify its validity, authorship, bibliography, and legitimacy. The investigation was helpful in correcting errors that had found their way into earlier botanical works. A number of recent monographs and journals were consulted to add new taxa reported for India and to revise taxonomy and ranges of taxa. In the course of this work, type information was added when feasible.

Checklist

Poaceae Barnh., 1895, nom. cons.

Type. Poa L.

Ancestrally rhizomatous perennials but diversified into caespitose or scarcely branched forms; annual habit derived multiple times. Culms herbaceous but woody culms derived more than once. Height varying from a few mm to several m. Leaf blades broad, pseudopetioles synapomorphic for the family but repeatedly lost. Ligule membranous or a fringe of hairs. Inflorescences branched or unbranched. Stamens ancestrally 6, but reduced to 3 in many species. Style branches and stigmas ancestrally 3, but reduced to 2 in many species. Pollen monoporate, lacking scrobiculi in the exine. Ovule 1. Embryo lateral, highly differentiated with clear root and shoot meristems, each enclosed by a sheath, and with several well-developed leaves and a lateral haustorial organ (scutellum). Fruit indehiscent with a single seed, the seed coat tightly appressed or fused to the inner wall of the pericarp. Leaf mesophyll with fusoid cells and with cells with invaginated cell walls, midrib complex; these characters lost during evolution of the family. Epidermis with multicellular microhairs, with alternating long and short cells, the short cells developing silica bodies. Photosynthetic pathway ancestrally C<sub>3</sub>.

Poaceae is a monophyletic family as documented by decades of phylogenetic studies (e.g., (Campbell and Kellogg 1987; Clark et al. 1995; Grass Phylogeny Working Group 2001; Grass Phylogeny Working Group II 2012; Linder 1987)). Morphological characters that are unique to the family (synapomorphic) include the highly differentiated embryo, the unique fruit structure, and the unique leaf morphology. In all grasses except Anomochlooideae (i.e., in all Indian species), the branches terminate in units known as spikelets, with each spikelet subtended by two bracts (glumes) and bearing one or more flowers. Also in this slightly more restricted group the inner perianth is modified to form tiny hyaline structures known as lodicules that function in flower opening and then wither after anthesis.

Subfamily Pharoideae L. G. Clark & Judz., 1996

Plants herbaceous, rhizomatous. Leaf blades with a pseudopetiole, resupinate, with lateral veins running obliquely from midvein to margins. Inflorescence branched, with hooked hairs on the branches and spikelets. Spikelets unisexual, with staminate and pistillate spikelets borne in pairs. Lemma margins fused such that lemmas are tubular and often inflated. Lodicules lacking, or present only in staminate flowers. Inner bundle sheath of veins with multiple layers of cells. Intercostal epidermis with files of long fibers alternating with normal files of intercostal long cells.

Subfamily Pharoideae includes only about 12 species, which grow in shade in tropical forests. The subfamily is monophyletic, with obvious morphological and molecular synapomorphies. The spikelets are unisexual and paired, with a large pistillate spikelet associated with a much smaller staminate spikelet. The leaf anatomy is also distinctive in that the inner bundle sheath of the veins has multiple layers of cells (Judziewicz and Clark 2007). The intercostal epidermis has files of long fibers alternating with normal files of intercostal long cells (Soderstrom et al. 1987). It is unclear whether this subfamily actually occurs in India, although Leptaspis urceolata has been reported, as noted below.

Leptaspis* R. Br., Prodr. Fl. Nov. Holland. 211. 1810

Type. Leptaspis banksii R. Br.

1. Leptaspis urceolata (Roxb.) R. Br., Pl. Jav. Rar. (Bennett) 23. t. 6. 1838

Pharus urceolatus Roxb., Fl. Ind. (Roxburgh) 3: 611. 1832. Type: Malaysia: A native of Pulo Pinaug

Leptaspis manillensis Steud., Syn. Pl. Glumac. 1: 8. 1853. Type: Thailand: Manila;

Cuming Herb. no. 1739

Leptaspis zeylanica Nees, Syn. Pl. Glumac. (Steudel) 1: 8. 1853. Type: Sri Lanka.

Distribution. Kerala [Sri Lanka].

Habit. Rhizomatous perennial.

Remarks. Record for India fide Naithani (1990).

Subfamily Bambusoideae Luerss., 1893

Woody or herbaceous perennials. Leaves pseudopetiolate, the culm leaves generally morphologically distinct from those on the lateral branches. Ligule membranous, with or without a fringe of hairs. Inflorescences branched or unbranched, bearing conventional spikelets or pseudospikelets. Glumes 0 or 1 to several. Lodicules 3. Stamens 3 or 6. First seedling leaf lacking a lamina.

Bambusoideae includes both woody and herbaceous bamboos. The lack of a lamina on the first seedling leaf may be synapomorphic (Soderstrom and Ellis 1987). In addition, the leaf anatomy is distinctive. The leaf mesophyll is marked by fusoid cells, which appear large and seemingly empty in cross section; this cell type is actually symplesiomorphic in the family (Clark et al. 1995; Kellogg 2015b; Leandro et al. 2018). Adaxial and abaxial to the fusoid cells are mesophyll cells with invaginated cell walls, known as arm cells. In the bamboos, these are asymmetric, a characteristic that is synapomorphic for the subfamily. The last several years have seen considerable progress on phylogeny and classification of bamboos (Bamboo Phylogeny Group 2012; Kelchner and Bamboo Phylogeny Group 2013), but in general work on Old World species has proceeded more slowly than that in the New World. Of the three tribes, only two occur in India.

Much of the data presented here relies on the authoritative World Checklist of Bamboos and Rattans (Vorontsova et al. 2016).

Taxonomic Editor: Lynn G. Clark, Iowa State University

Tribe Arundinarieae Asch. & Graebn., 1902

Plants woody, with rhizomes leptomorph (running) and the plants forming more or less diffuse stands, or pachymorph (clumping), these taxa sometimes with elongated necks. Branches developing from the top to the bottom of the plant (basipetal). Foliage leaves with an outer ligule. Spikelets laterally compressed. Midrib with complex vasculature.

All members of this tribe are woody and temperate and are tetraploid ( $2n = 48$ ) (Bamboo Phylogeny Group 2012; Kelchner and Bamboo Phylogeny Group 2013). Generic limits are not well defined in most cases and hybridization has been documented repeatedly (Triplett et al. 2010, 2014; Wong and Low 2011).

 Type: India: Nagaland, Niriyo Peak, alt. 3840 ft., Wokha; November, 1986; H.B. Naithani 1477 (DD).

Distribution. Nagaland.

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Seethalakshmi and Kumar (1998) indicate that this species is allied to Chimonocalamus griffithianus (as Sinarundinaria griffithianus) so a new combination in Chimonocalamus is here proposed. This species has the root spines characteristic of this genus, but is unknown in flower.

Drepanostachyum* Keng f., Journal of Bamboo Research 2(1): 15. 1983

Type. Drepanostachyum falcatum (Nees) Keng f.

12. Drepanostachyum falcatum (Nees) Keng f., J. Bamboo Res. 2(1): 16. 1983

Arundinaria falcata Nees, Linnaea 9: 478. 1835

Sinarundinaria falcata (Nees) C.S. Chao & Renvoize, Kew Bull. 44(2): 357. 1989

Arundinaria gracilis (hort. ex Rivière & C. Rivière) Blanch., Rev. Hist. Nat. [Paris]. 58: 490. 1886

Bambusa gracilis hort. ex Rivière & C. Rivière, Bull. Soc. Natl. Acclim. France Ser. 3, 5(25): 682. 1878

Type. "In Nepalia legit, Royle." Lectotype: Northwest India; Royle s.n. (K). LT designated by C.S. Chao & Renvoize in Kew Bull. 44(2): 358. 1989.

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Arundinaria gracilis (hort. ex Rivière & C. Rivière) Blanch. is included in Seethalakshmi and Kumar (1998) but is the subject of taxonomic confusion. The name is based on Bambusa gracilis hort. ex Rivière & C. Rivière, but this is a synonym of Drepanostachyum falcatum (Nees) Keng f., according to Vorontsova et al. (2016). As noted by taxonomic editor Clark, Arundinaria gracilis Lafosse is listed as a nomen nudum in TROPICOS, apparently because the protologue fails to cite a type. This entity requires further investigation.

Thamnocalamus nepalensis (Stapleton) Stapleton, J. Bot. Res. Inst. Texas 1(1): 140. 2007 [doubtful species]

Tribe Bambuseae Kunth ex Dumort., 1829

Woody bamboos, often tree-like. Rhizomes pachymorph and the plants clumping, but necks sometimes elongated; one New World genus sometimes with amphimorph rhizomes. Branches developing either from the bottom to the top of the plant (acropetal) or bidirectional. Outer ligule generally present. Spikelets laterally compressed, disarticulating above the glumes. Midrib mostly with complex vasculature.

Members of this tribe are tropical and either tetraploid or hexaploid, mostly with  $2n = 48$  or 72, although some aneuploid numbers have been reported (Bamboo Phylogeny Group 2012). Pseudospikelets, in which the spikelet themselves form branched structures, are common but not universal in this group (Bamboo Phylogeny Group 2012). The Old World species of Bambuseae form a clade separate from the New World species (Kelchner and Bamboo Phylogeny Group 2013; Triplett et al. 2014).

Distribution. West Bengal [China, Myanmar]. Only cultivated in India.

Habit. Woody perennial.

81. Dendrocalamus giganteus Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26(1): 150. 1868

Type. “Cult. Calcutta” [Botanical Garden, Calcutta], Lectotype: Hb. Munro (K). LT designated by Stapleton in Edinburg J. Bot. 51(1): 23. 1994.

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Maharashtra, Manipur, Meghalaya, Nagaland, Sikkim, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, West Bengal [China, Myanmar, Nepal, Sri Lanka]. Probably only cultivated in India; probably native to Malaysia, Myanmar and Thailand.

Habit. Woody perennial.

82. Dendrocalamus hamiltonii Nees & Arn. ex Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26(1): 151. 1868

Bambusa monogynia Griff., Not. Pl. Asiat. 3: 63. 1851 (non B. monogyna Blanco, 1837)

Lectotype. India: Assam, Goalpara; July 17, 1808; Buchanan-Hamilton 882 (E). LT designated by Stapleton in Edinburg J. Bot. 51(1): 23. 1994

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Bihar, Himachal Pradesh, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland, Odisha, Sikkim, Tripura, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [Bangladesh, Bhutan, China, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Woody perennial.

83. Dendrocalamus hookeri Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26(1): 151. 1868
var. *hookeri

Lectotype. India: Bengal orient, Pundua; June 11, 1850; J.D. Hooker & Thomson 411 (K). LT designated by Stapleton in Edinburg J. Bot. 51(1): 26. 1994

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland, North Bengal, Sikkim, West Bengal [Bhutan, Myanmar, Nepal].

Habit. Woody perennial.

84. Dendrocalamus longispathus Kurz, Prelim. Rep. Forest Pegu, App. B: 94. 1875

Type. Burma: mixed and tropical forests of Arracan, Pegu Yomah and Martaban; Metam s.n.

Distribution. Assam, Bihar, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Odisha, Tripura, West Bengal [Bangladesh, China, Myanmar, Thailand].

Habit. Woody perennial.

85. Dendrocalamus membranaceus Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26(1): 149. 1868

Bambusa membranacea (Munro) Stapleton & N.H. Xia, Kew Bull. 52(1): 238. 1997
Dendrocalamus longifimbriatus Gamble, Ann. Roy. Bot. Gard. (Calcutta) 7: 92. 1896

Type. Burma: Martaban, Trogla; March 12, 1827; Numer. List [Wallich] no 5029 (K). LT designated by Stapleton & N.H. Xia in Kew Bull. 52: 238. 1997.

Distribution. Kerala, West Bengal [China, Myanmar]. Apparently only cultivated in India; native to Laos, Myanmar and Thailand.

Habit. Woody perennial.

86. Dendrocalamus parishii Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26(1): 149. 1868

Dendrocalamus hookeri Munro var. parishii (Munro) Blatt., Indian Forester 55(11): 594. 1929

Type. India: Punjab Himalaya; Parish s.n.

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Himachal Pradesh, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland, Punjab, Sikkim, West Bengal [China, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Clark notes that “This species is not treated in Ku-mari and Singh (2014) and is not even included in their index. Perhaps does not occur in Meghalaya? Or more likely, given the distribution, is considered synonymous with D. hookeri. Needs further study.”

87. Dendrocalamus sabnii H.B. Naithani & Bahadur, Indian Forester 108(3): 212. f. 1. 1982

Type. India: Arunachal Pradesh, Subansiri District, Zoram, alt. 6000 ft.; April 28, 1977; H.B. Naithani ser II no. 902 (DD).

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh.

Habit. Woody perennial.

88. Dendrocalamus sericeus Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26(1): 148. 1868

Dendrocalamus strictus (Roxb.) Nees var. sericeus (Munro) Gamble, Man. Ind. Timb., ed. 2, 751. 1902

Syntypes. India: Behar [Bihar], Parasnath, alt. 4000 ft.; September, 1858; Thomson s.n., (K). India: Behar [Bihar], Parasnath; February, 1848; Hooker s.n. (K).

Distribution. Bihar.

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Clark notes that this was treated in Ohrnberger (1999) as a variety of D. strictus. Further study is required.

89. Dendrocalamus sikkimensis Gamble ex Oliver, Hooker's Icon. Pl. 18: t. 1770. 1888

Lectotype. India: Sikkim; July 20, 1885; Pantling s.n. (K). LT designated by Stapleton in Edinburg J. Bot. 51(1): 26. 1994

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland, North Bengal, Sikkim, West Bengal [Bhutan, China, Nepal].

Habit. Woody perennial.

90. Dendrocalamus somdevae H.B. Naithani, Indian Forester 119(6): 504. 1993
(as “somdevai”)

Type. Uttarakhand: Dehra Dun, Hardwar road between Jogiwala and Majri (Mokham-pur), 11.3.1991, Som Deva 10985 (Holotype DD).

Distribution. Uttar Pradesh.

Habit. Woody perennial.

91. Dendrocalamus strictus (Roxb.) Nees, Linnaea 9: 476–477. 1835

Bambos stricta Roxb., Pl. Coromandel 1: 58. t. 80. 1798. Type: India: undershrub in deciduous forests; Roxburgh s.n. (K).

Distribution. Andhra Pradesh, Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Dadra and Nagar Haveli, Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh, Jharkhand, Karnataka, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Meghalaya, Odisha, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh [Bangladesh, China, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Author K. Gandhi observes, “Since Roxburgh’s collections from the Coromandel Coast were destroyed in a flood, a good comprehensive collection with the same local name from the same area should be made and designated as a neotype.” See also Stapleton (1994).

Dinochloa* Buse, Gram. (Buse) 47. 1854

Type. Dinochloa tjankorreh Buse, nom. illeg. (Bambusa scandens Blume, Dinochloa scandens (Blume) Kuntze).

92. Dinochloa andamanica Kurz, J. Asiat. Soc. Bengal, Pt. 2, Nat. Hist. 42: 253.
1873

Type. India: “Andamans (etiam in insula Nicobaricis)”.

Distribution. Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

Habit. Woody perennial.

93. Dinochloa mcclellandii (Munro) Kurz, J. Asiat. Soc. Bengal, Pt. 2, Nat. Hist. 42: 253. 1873 (as “maclellandii”)

Bambusa mcclellandii Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26(1): 114. 1868 (as “McClellandii”). Type: “Hab. in Ind. or Pegu, Rangon, Phoungue Valley; M’Clelland v.s.”

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Uttarakhand, West Bengal [Myanmar].

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Records for Arunachal Pradesh and Assam fide Naithani (1990).

94. Dinochloa nicobariana R.B. Majumdar in S. Karthikeyan et al., Fl. Ind. ser. 4, 1 (Monocotyledon): 277. 1989

Type. India: Nicobar Island, North Nicobar, Katchal Island, Coastal Forest; P. Chakravarty 1129 (CAL).

Distribution. Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

Habit. Woody perennial.

95. Dinochloa scandens (Blume) Kuntze, Revis. Gen. Pl. 2: 773. 1891

Bambusa scandens Blume, Flora 7: 291. 1824. Type: Java: Megamendung; Blume s.n. (L.).

Distribution. Andaman and Nicobar Islands. Cultivated; native to Indonesia.

Habit. Woody perennial.

Gigantochloa* Kurz ex Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26: 123. 1868

Lectotype. Gigantochloa atter (Hassk.) Kurz ex Munro (Bambusa vulgaris var. atter Hassk.). LT designated by Holttum in Taxon 5: 28–30. 1956.

96. Gigantochloa albociliata (Munro) Kurz, Prelim. Rep. Forest Pegu, App. A: cxxxvi; App. B: 93. 1875 (as “albo-ciliata”)

Oxytenanthera albociliata Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26(1): 129. 1868 (as “albo-ciliata”). Type: “Hab. in India or.” [Burma]: Pegu; Brandis 19 (“Wapyoogle” incolis). India: Moulmein; Falconer 27

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Meghalaya, Tripura, West Bengal [China, Myanmar]. Cultivated, perhaps also naturalized; native to Myanmar.

Habit. Woody perennial.

97. Gigantochloa andamanica (Kurz) Kurz, Prelim. Rep. For. Veg. Pegu, App. A. cxxxvi; App. B. 93 in clavi. 1875

Bambusa andamanica Kurz, J. Asiat. Soc. Bengal n.s. 39 (2): 88. 1870. Type: Andaman Islands, south Andaman; 1875; Kurz s.n.

Distribution. Andaman Islands [Myanmar].

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Clark notes that this name was treated as a synonym of Gigantochloa nigrociliata in Vorontsova et al. (2016); see also remarks under that species. The status of this taxon requires further study.

98. Gigantochloa apus (Schult. & Schult. f.) Kurz ex Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26: 126. 1868

Bambusa apus Schult. & Schult.f., Syst. Veg., ed. 15 bis [Roemer & Schultes] 7(2): 1353. 1830. Type: Indonesia: “Java ad montem Salaki”; Blume s.n. (check author). Gigantochloa kurzii Gamble, Ann. Roy. Bot. Gard. (Calcutta) 7: 65. 1896

Distribution. Meghalaya [Myanmar].

Habit. Woody perennial.

99. Gigantochloa atroviolacea Widjaja, Reinwardtia 10(3): 323. 1987

Type. Indonesia: Java, Wonosari, Nagasari; February, 1983; Ramlanto s.n. (BO).

Distribution. West Bengal. Known only from cultivation; also in Indonesia and Malaysia.

Habit. Woody perennial.

100. Gigantochloa atter (Hassk.) Kurz ex Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26: 125. 1868

Bambusa vulgaris Schrad. ex J.C. Wendl. var. atter Hassk., Cat. Hort. Bot. Bogor. (Hasskarl) 19. 1844

Bambusa thouarsii Kunth var. atter Hassk., Pl. Jav. Rar. 41. 1848

Syntypes. Indonesia: Java; Horsfield s.n. Java: Buitenzorg; Kurz s.n.

Distribution. West Bengal. Cultivated only. [Indonesia and Malaysia].

Habit. Woody perennial.

101. Gigantochloa auriculata (Kurz) Kurz, Prelim. Rep. Forest Pegu, App. A: cxxxvii; App. B: 94. 1875

Bambusa auriculata Kurz, J. Asiat. Soc. Bengal, Pt. 2, Nat. Hist 39: 86. 1870. Type: Burma: Southern Pegu; Kurz 20 (CAL).

Distribution. Assam [Bangladesh, Myanmar].

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Clark notes that Seethalakshmi and Kumar (1998) treat this as a member of the genus Bambusa, but Widjaja, quoted in Ohrnberger (1999), discussed it as a species of Gigantochloa. The placement here follows Widjaja, but on the basis of the available information, she does not regard the generic placement as settled. Both Wu et al. (2006) and Vorontsova et al. (2016) treat this name as a synonym of Bambusa vulgaris.

102. Gigantochloa hasskarliana (Kurz) Backer ex K. Heyne, Nutt. Pl. Ned.-Ind., ed. 2 1: 299. 1927

Schizostachyum hasskarlianum Kurz, Indian Forester 1: 352. 1876. Syntypes: Indonesia: Java, alt. 2000–3000 ft. Sumatra: Padang

Distribution. Chhattisgarh, Madhya Pradesh, cultivated [also in Indonesia, where it is native].

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Record for Madhya Pradesh fide Naithani (1990).

103. Gigantochloa macrostachya Kurz, J. Asiat. Soc. Bengal, Pt. 2, Nat. Hist. 42: 251. 1873.

Type. Martaban, Tenasserim

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Meghalaya, Mizoram [Bangladesh, Myanmar].

Habit. Woody perennial.

104. Gigantochloa nigrociliata (Buse) Kurz, Indian Forester 1(4): 345, 1876 var. *nigrociliata

Bambusa nigrociliata Buse, Pl. Jungh. 389. 1854 (as “Nigro-ciliata”). Type: “Habitat insulam Javae Prope Tjiberem”; Junghuhn s.n.

Oxytenanthera nigrociliata (Buse) Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26(1): 228. 1868
 (as “nigro-ciliata”)

Distribution. Andaman and Nicobar Islands, Kerala, cultivated [Myanmar]. Native to Indonesia.

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Clark notes that Seethalakshmi and Kumar (1998) consider this to be a synonym of Gigantochloa rostrata, but other treatments maintain it as a species. Ohrnberger (1999) indicates that it occurs in the “eastern, central, and north-eastern parts” of India in addition to the Andamans. Dransfield and Widjaja (1995) list G. nigrociliata as doubtful for India, suggesting that the Indian records refer to other species. The status of the species and the following variety both need reevaluation in India and generally.

105. Gigantochloa nigrociliata (Buse) Kurz var. hohenackeri (Fischer) H. B. Naithani, Fl. Pl. India, Nepal & Bhutan 514. 1990

Oxytenanthera nigrociliata (Buse) Munro var. hohenackeri Fischer, Kew Bull. 1935:96. 1935

Distribution. Karnataka. Overall occurrence not understood well.

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Record for Karnataka fide Naithani (1990).

106. Gigantochloa parvifolia (Brandis ex Gamble) T.Q. Nguyen, Bot. Zhurn. 75(2): 224. 1990

Pseudoxytenanthera parvifolia (Brandis ex Gamble) T.Q. Nyugen, Bot. Zurn. (Moscow and Leningrad) 76(7): 993. 1991

Oxytenanthera parvifolia Brandis ex Gamble, Ann. Roy. Bot. Gard. (Calcutta) 7: 72. t. 63. 1896. Type: Burma: Yonzalin Valley; March, 1880; D. Brandis s.n.

Distribution. Assam, Mizoram [Myanmar]. Cultivated.

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Records for Assam and Mizoram fide Naithani (1990).

107. Gigantochloa pseudoarundinacea (Steud.) Widjaja, Reinwardtia 10(3): 305. 1987

Bambusa pseudoarundinacea Steud., Syn. Pl. Glumac. 1: 330. 1854. Type: Indonesia: Java; H. Zollinger 3479 (L).

Bambusa verticillata Willd., Sp. Pl., ed. 4 [Willdenow] 2: 245. 1799

Gigantochloa verticillata (Willd.) Munro, Trans. Linn. Soc. London 26(1): 124. 1868

Nastus verticillatus (Willd.) Sm., Cycl. (Rees) 24: n. 3. 1819

Distribution. West Bengal [Myanmar]. Known only in cultivation.

Habit. Woody perennial.

108. Gigantochloa rostrata K.M. Wong, Malaysian Forester 45(3): 349. 1982

Type. Malaya; October 15, 1980; K.M. Wong KEP FRI 28981 (L).

Distribution. Andaman and Nicobar Islands, Assam, Bihar, Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Meghalaya, Odisha, Tripura [Bangladesh]. Known only in cultivation.

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Clark notes that “Kumari and Singh (2014) synonymize G. nigrociliata under this species, and in the discussion mention the G. nigrociliata of Widjaja. This needs to be addressed, as noted under G. nigrociliata.”

109. Gigantochloa tekserah E.G. Camus, Bamb. 141. 1913

Type. Garo Hills; 1889; G. Mann s.n. (?).

Distribution. Meghalaya.

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Clark notes that this species is not mentioned by Kumari and Singh (2014), and furthermore, that this name is treated as a synonym of Gigantochloa macrostachya by Vorontsova et al. (2016).

Melocalamus Benth. in Benth. & J.D. Hooker, Gen. Pl. 3, 2: 1095, 1212. 1883

Schizostachyum mannii R.B. Majumdar in S. Karthikeyan et al., Fl. Ind. ser. 4, 1 (Monocotyledon) 281. 1989. Type: India: Jowai, Khasia & Jaintia Hills; G. Mann 31982 (CAL).

Bambusa khasiana sensu Gamble, Ann. Roy. Bot. Gard. (Calcutta) 7: 39. t. 37. 1896, non Munro, 1868.

Distribution. Assam, Meghalaya Manipur, Sikkim.

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Record for Manipur fide Naithani (1990). Taxonomic editor Clark notes that S. mannii has been synonymized with M. clarkei by Kumari and Singh (2014).

115. Melocanna humilis Kurz, J. Asiat. Soc. Bengal, Pt. 2, Nat. Hist. 42(4): 251. 1873, non Roep. ex Trin., 1822

Melocanna arundina C.E. Parkinson, Indian Forester 61: 326. 1935

Distribution. Assam, West Bengal [China, Myanmar, Thailand].

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Record for Assam fide Naithani (1990). Taxonomic editor Clark notes that "Kumari and Singh (2014) indicate that there are two species of Melocanna, M. baccifera and M. clarkei, and that both occur in Meghalaya, but they do not make any reference to M. humilis."

Neohouzeaua* A. Camus, Bull. Mus. Nation. Hist. Nat. Paris 28: 100. 1922

Distribution. Karnataka, Kerala, Tamil Nadu.

Habit. Woody perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Clark notes that the nomenclature here needs to be investigated and the type material studied. The name B. wightii has several syntypes and was based on vegetative material only, so it is unclear what species name really applies to although it appears to be validly published. In addition, T. wightii may be misapplied fide Ohrnberger (1999).

Subfamily Oryzoideae Kunth x Beilschm. (1833)

Plants perennial, generally herbaceous and with or without rhizomes or stolons. Spikelets with 2 glumes, or the glumes lacking. Flowers 3, the proximal two sterile and only the distal one fertile. Lemma with or without an awn. Lodicules 2. Fusoid cells absent or present, mesophyll cells with or without invaginated cell walls, midrib simple or complex.

Within Oryzoideae, Ehrhartae and Oryzeae are clearly sisters (e.g., (Kellogg 2009; Saarela et al. 2018; Tang et al. 2010)). Members of these two tribes have characteristic “oryzoid” silica bodies in the leaves. These are narrow and elongated perpendicular to the proximo-distal axis of the leaf and form over the veins, which is an unusual position for silica bodies (Metcalfe 1960). Most species have a chromosome base number of  $x = 12$ . All Oryzeae and many Ehrhartae are plants of moist habitats, a character that may be ancestral (Kellogg 2015b).

In contrast to Ehrhartae and Oryzeae, the position of Streptogyna has long been controversial. However, recent phylogenetic work using complete plastomes places it sister to the Ehrhartae + Oryzeae clade (Saarela et al. 2018). It lacks the distinctive characters of the other two tribes having multi-flowered spikelets and lacking the distinctive silica bodies. Nuclear phylogenies place it sister to the BOP clade (Mathews et al. 2000) or to Bambusoideae (Hisamoto et al. 2008).

Taxonomic editor: G. Anthony Verboom, University of Cape Town

Tribe Ehrhartae Nevski, 1937

Ehrhartae has no obvious diagnostic character, although the simple vasculature in the midrib and lack of an epiblast in the embryo might be synapomorphic (Kellogg 2015b). The plants vary in habit, presence or absence of auricles in the leaves, and ligule morphology. Stamen number also varies, with individual species having 2, 3, 4, or 6 stamens. This character has been used in the past to segregate genera from Ehrharta but phylogenetic studies (Verboom et al. 2003) show that all species are best placed in a single genus.

Tribe Oryzeae Dumort. (1824)

Plants annual or perennial. Leaves with a membranous ligule, with or without a pseudopetiole. Spikelets with the sterile flowers reduced to lemmas or lacking entirely. Glumes reduced or absent. Midrib with two or more vascular bundles, with bundles placed ad- and abaxially, and often with air spaces.

The distinctive midrib anatomy that is here interpreted as synapomorphic for the tribe is lost in Luziola and Hygroryza (Kellogg 2015b; Tateoka 1963). All members of the tribe grow in sites that are moist or regularly flooded, and a few are truly aquatic (Kellogg 2015b).

Subfamily Pooideae Benth., 1861

Plants annual or perennial, variously caespitose, rhizomatous or stoloniferous. Culms hollow. Leaf blades without a pseudopetiole, ancestrally lacking auricles; ligules membranous. Spikelets with 1 to many flowers, disarticulating above the glumes. Lodicules 2 not vascularized. Stigmas borne on separate style branches (i.e., style branches not fused).

Brachyelytrum is sister to all other Pooideae, with the remainder of the species having inflorescence branches initiating in a two-ranked pattern, the spikelets laterally compressed, the embryo lacking a scutellar cleft, and the embryonic leaf margins overlapping (Grass Phylogeny Working Group 2001; Kellogg et al. 2013; Saarela et al. 2015; Schubert et al. 2019a, 2019b). The next diverging tribe is Nardeae; all members of the large clade sister to Nardeae (i.e., the remainder of the subfamily) lack bicellular microhairs anywhere on the plant (Grass Phylogeny Working Group 2001). Parallel-sided subsidiary cells are synapomorphic for Brachypodium plus Bromeae, Triticeae, and Poeae (Grass Phylogeny Working Group 2001). A substantial increase in genome size occurred before the crown node of the clade Bromeae+ Triticeae+ Poeae, and nearly all members of the group have a chromosome base number of  $x=7$  (Avdulov 1931; Bennetzen and Kellogg 1997; Kellogg and Bennetzen 2004).

Taxonomic editor: Robert J. Soreng, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, DC, with additional contributions for Stipeae by Paul M. Peterson, Smithsonian Institution, for Agrostis and Calamagrostis by Beata Paszko, Polish Academy of Sciences, and for Poa sect. Stenopoa by Marina V. Olonova, Tomsk State University.

Tribe Nardeae W. D. J. Koch, 1837

Perennial plants with leathery leaves. Lower glume absent or reduced to a narrow ridge; upper glume absent or minute. Lodicules absent; stigma one.

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Distribution in India fide Naithani (1990). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that the species is native to the Mediterranean, and was cultivated historically for fiber.

Tribe Phaenospermateae Renvoize & Clayton, 1985

Leaves with pseudopetiolate and resupinate blades, and long membranous, glabrous ligules. Spikelets 1-flowered, globose, disarticulating below the glumes. Rachilla extension absent.

Soreng et al. (2017), and taxonomic editor of subfamily Pooideae here, recognizes Phaenospermateae as distinct from Duthieeae. The two tribes are sisters in molecular phylogenies and thus would be monophyletic whether combined or kept separate. Phaenosperma is morphologically distinctive and the combined tribe has no morphological synapomorphies. In contrast, Kellogg (2015b) combined Phaenospermateae with Duthieeae, noting that they are sister taxa and that Phaenospermateae s.s. is monogeneric; thus recognition of Phaenospermateae offers no phylogenetic information. The decision whether to combine or separate the two tribes is a matter of ranking, for which there are no taxonomic rules.

Tribe Meliceae Link ex Endl., 1830

Most species perennial. Leaf sheaths with margins fused up to the collar, the margins often joined by a hyaline membrane. Glumes usually shorter than the florets. Lemma margins papery above, the veins not converging at the apex. Lodicules thick, truncate, their margins partially or wholly fused. Style branches 2, free to the base, the branches persistent in the fruit.

Festuca fluitans L., Sp. Pl. 1: 75. 1753. Type: “Habitat in Europae fossis & paludibus.”

Lectotype: Herb. Linn. No. 92.22 (LINN). LT designated by Kit Tan in Davis (ed.), Fl. Turkey 9: 537. 1985.

Distribution. Meghalaya, Tamil Nadu [also in Africa, Europe, North America, South America]. Naturalized; native to Europe.

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Glyceria fluitans is sometimes confused with G. plicata (= G. notata Chevall (Clayton et al. 2006 onwards)) and G. distans. Cope (1982) accepts G. plicata but this is G. notata (Clayton et al. 2006 onwards), and these three are often confused. Based on the discussion and synonym in the Flora of China treatment (Tian 2006), it is likely that this record refers to G. notata, not G. fluitans.

Tribe Stipeae Dumort., 1824

Caespitose perennials, the leaves generally stiff and slender. Spikelets one-flowered, the rachilla not extended beyond the flower. Glumes generally longer than the pubescent lemma; lemma generally wrapped around the palea, awned from the apex, the awn straight or twisted and often geniculate. Lodicles 3.

The tribe is monophyletic and the single flowered spikelet could be synapomorphic (Grass Phylogeny Working Group 2001; Kellogg 2015b). Generic limits are the subject of much ongoing research and extensive hybridization is likely (Romaschenko et al. 2008, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2014; Soreng et al. 2017).

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir, Punjab, Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh [China, Pakistan].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Record for Jammu and Kashmir fide Naithani (1990). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that B. distachyon has been split into three species (Catalán et al. 2012; Lopez-Alvarez et al. 2012). It is unclear which name, or if all 3, would be applicable to material from India. Also, there may be older names for the new species, but this will require checking the types of heterotypic synonyms.

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir (C82), Meghalaya, Nagaland, Sikkim, Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [Bhutan, China, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Tribe Bromeae Dumort., 1824

Plants annual or perennial, caespitose or rhizomatous. Leaf sheaths with fused margins. Spikelets with 3 or more flowers, disarticulating above the glumes. Lemma entire or bidentate, if awned then the awn forming from the sinus or on the abaxial side just below the apex. Style branches on the abaxial side of the ovary, the ovary enlarged and lobed above the point of insertion of the style branches.

This tribe included Littledalea in the treatment of Kellogg (2015b), but Littledalea is now placed in its own tribe (Soreng et al. 2015) so that Bromus is the sole member of Bromeae.

Bromus L, Sp. Pl. 1: 76. 1753, nom. cons.

Synonyms. Anisantha K. Koch, Bromopsis (Dumort.) Fourr., Ceratochloa P. Beauv.

Type. Bromus secalinus L. (typ. cons.)

232. Bromus arvensis L., Sp. Pl. 1: 77. 1753

Type. “Habitat in Europa ad versuras agrorum.” Lectotype: Herb. Linn. No. 93.21 (LINN). LT designated by Smith in Notes Roy. Bot. Gard. Edinburgh 42: 499. 1985.

Distribution. Assam, Jammu and Kashmir, Uttar Pradesh [China, Pakistan].

Habit. Annual.

Tribe Triticeae Dumort., 1824

Plants annual or perennial, caespitose or rhizomatous. Leaf sheaths often with prominent auricles. Inflorescence unbranched, the spikelets borne crosswise to the rachis.

Spikelets 1 to 5 per node, laterally compressed, disarticulating above the glumes. Lodicules ciliate. Endosperm with simple starch grains.

Generic limits in this tribe are problematical (Barkworth 2007; Stebbins 1956; Stebbins and Snyder 1956; Stebbins, Jr. and Walters 1949). Extensive hybridization and polyploidy mean that the evolutionary history is not tree-like and hence cannot be converted to a hierarchical classification (Kellogg et al. 1996); therefore, all efforts to create monophyletic genera are somewhat arbitrary.

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [Pakistan].

Habit. Not recorded but likely perennials.

Remarks. Record for Jammu and Kashmir fide Naithani (1990). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Pseudoroegneria is usually separated from Elymus, but it is unclear whether P. stewartii is a good member of Pseudoroegneria.

278. Elymus tschimganicus (Drobow) Tzvelev, Rasteniiia Tsentral'noi Azii 4: 221. 1968

Agropyron tschimganicum Drobow, Key Fl. Tashkent 1: 40. 1923

Distribution. Uttar Pradesh [China].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Record for India fide Naithani (1990). Taxonomic editor Soreng comments on the orthographic variations in the history of this name. In 1923 Drobow spelled it tschimganicum; in 1940 Drobow spelled it czimganicum; in Fl. Central Azii, 4: 221 (270 in English ed.) 1968, Tzvelev, comb. nov. the combination was spelled as Elymus czimganicus, later corrected to tschimganicus.

279. Elymus × nothus (Melderis) G. Singh, Taxon 32(4): 639. 1983

Agropyron × nothum Melderis in Bor, Grasses Burma, Ceylon, India and Pakistan 693.

1960. Type: Karakoram, Makerum, Hispar Glacier, dry bank, 12,500 ft.; August 1, 1939; R. Scott Russell 1387 (BM).

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir.

Habit. Not recorded.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng states that this is the named hybrid Elymus dentatus × E. fedtschenkoi. Cope (1982) lists it among other putative hybrids but says none have been investigated beyond original characterization.

It sporadically germinates on roadsides and pastures and market areas due to spillage of grain, but it would not persist on its own. The Linnaean typification project assigns the name Gigachilon polonicum (L.) Seidl ssp. polonicum to this taxon (<http://www.nhm.ac.uk/our-science/data/linnaean-typification/>), but Soreng notes that Gigachilon is invalid.

306. Triticum spelta L., Sp. Pl. 1: 86. 1753

Triticum aestivum L. ssp. spelta (L.) Thell., Mitt. Naturwiss. Ges. Winterthur 12: 471.
1918

Triticum zea Host, Icon. Descr. Gram. Austriac. 3: 20. t. 29. 1805. Type: Seritur

Type. “Habitat - - -” Lectotype: Herb. Linn. No. 104.1 (LINN). LT designated by Morrison in Taxon 47: 709. 1998.

Distribution. India; states not recorded [China].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that this species is cultivated. It sporadically germinates on roadsides and pastures and market areas due to spillage of grain, but it would not persist on its own.

307. Triticum sphaerococcum Percival, Wheat Pl. Monogr. 321. 1921

Triticum aestivum L. ssp. sphaerococcum (Percival) Mackey, Svensk. Bot. Tidskr. 48: 586. 1954

Type. India: parts of Persia; Howard s.n.

Distribution. Madhya Pradesh, Punjab.

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that this species is cultivated. It sporadically germinates on roadsides and pastures and market areas due to spillage of grain, but it would not persist on its own.

308. Triticum turgidum L., Sp. Pl. 1: 86. 1753

Triticum polonicum L. ssp. turgidum (L.) A. Löve, Feddes Repert. 95: 497. 1984

Type. “Habitat - - -” Lectotype: Herb. A. van Royen No. 913.62–257 (L). LT designated by Morrison in Taxon 47: 707. 1998.

Distribution. Northwest India [China].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that this species is cultivated. It sporadically germinates on roadsides and pastures and market areas due to spillage of grain, but it would not persist on its own. The Linnaean typification project assigns the name Gigachilon polonicum (L.) Seidl ssp. turgidum (L.) Å. Löve to this taxon (Cafferty et al. 2000), but Soreng notes that Gigachilon is invalid.

Tribe Poeae R. Br., 1814

Plants annual or perennial, rhizomatous or caespitose, inflorescence and spikelets variable; spikelets laterally compressed, disarticulating above the glumes. The punctate hi- lum may be synapomorphic; having an endosperm with lipid may also be derived here although this character is sparsely sampled.

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Uttar Pradesh [China, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Arctopoa has been demonstrated be of old reticulate origin (Gillespie et al. 2008), derived from an extinct parent (chloroplast donor) from an early lineage of Poa crossed with a parent from a lineage outside Poa but related to Cinna and Arctagrostis (nrDNA donor). The genus has diversified and now includes at least three well marked and stable species, although Probatova (2003) recognizes eight.

Distribution. Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh [Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Annual.

352. Avena byzantina C. Koch, Linnaea 21: 392. 1848

Type. "Ich erhielt sie auch unter den Thirkenschen aus der Umgegend von Brussa gesammelten Pflanzen."

Distribution. Bihar, Tamil Nadu, Himachal Pradesh [Pakistan].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that this is a Mediterranean taxon, presumably introduced to India in cultivation. It was placed in Avena sativa by Baum (1977). This species does grow outside of cultivation as a weed in other crops and disturbed places around where it is cultivated. It is recognized as a separate species by some taxonomists (e.g. by Chiapella and Amarilla (2012)), based on its slender, non-geniculate awn on both florets. Other authors (e.g. <http://www.emplantbase.org/home.html>) consider it as a subspecies – Avena sativa subsp. byzantina (K. Koch) Romero Zarco (Euro+Med Plantbase on-line). The latter treatment seems preferable.

Type. Calamagrostis lanceolata Roth (Tent. Fl. Germ. 2: 34. 1789) (Arundo calamagrostis L.).

Notes. The treatment here of Calamagrostis and Deyeuxia should be considered provisional as the generic boundaries are unclear. The two are considered distinct by Lu et al. (2006) and Kellogg (2015b). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Calamagrostis is deeply polyphyletic (Saarela et al. 2010). See also Paszko and Chen (2013), and Paszko and Ma (2011).

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Deyeuxia arundinacea P. Beauv. has no connection with any Indian species and is equal to Ampelodesmos mauritanicus (Poir.) T. Durand & Schinz.

361. Calamagrostis canadensis (Michx.) Beauv., Ess. Agrost. 15: 157. 1812

Calamagrostis cinnoides Barton, Compend. Fl. Phila. 1:45. 1818.

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir, Uttar Pradesh.

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Distribution in India fide Naithani (1990). However, these records are dubious. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that the only correct name for this as misapplied is Calamagrostis nuttalliana Steud., but he remains skeptical that this should be in Asia at all.

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Colpodium trollii Pilg. was placed in Catabrosella himalaica by Alexeev (1988) with some doubt. However, the species was described as 3(4)-flowered, and as no lemma vestiture was mentioned, presumably the type (if it is extant) has glabrous lemmas, so it probably is not C. himalaica. This also casts doubt on the synonymy of Catabrosa trollii (Pilg.) R.R. Stewart. Neither name is included here.

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Rajasthan, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [China, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that according to the Linnaean typification website, the current name for Aira cristata L. is Koeleria macrantha (Ledeb.) Schult., Mant. 2 (Schultes) 2: 345. 1824. Koeleria cristata might not be made on the basis of Aira cristata. Koeleria cristata is treated as a synonym of Koeleria macrantha in the Flora of Pakistan, and according to Quintanar Koeleria macrantha is a taxonomic synonym of K. pyramidata. There is no morphological discontinuity among these taxa. Thus, our distribution information and synonymy reflect the merging of these taxa, with the understanding that (as above), Koeleria cristata might not really belong here. See also comments in IPNI (2020).

Mustang Distr., 4900 m, in open place, 25 July 1983; Rajbhandari 8352 (TI, KATH)

Type. Nepal: west, 5 mi NE of Saipal, scree, 5600 m, 25 Aug. 1954, J.E.M. Arnold 226 (BM).

Distribution. Uttarakhand [Nepal].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Specimen records for Uttarakhand listed by Nautiyal and Gaur (2017). Zhu et al. (2006) place this as a subspecies of P. albertii and also consider P. mustangensis as a synonym.

476. Poa asperifolia Bor, Kew Bull. 1952: 130. 1952

Type. China: Tibet, Pembu La, 10–15 miles north from Lhasa; September, 1904; H.J. Walton s.n. (K).

Distribution. Sikkim [Bhutan, China].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Record for Sikkim fide Naithani (1990).

477. Poa attenuata Trin., Mém. Acad. Imp. Sci. St.-Pétersbourg Divers Savans 2: 527. 1835

Type. Russia: Siberia, Altai Mountain, “in montosis ad fontem fluvii”; July, 1833; D. Bunge s.n. (LE-TRIN-2584.01, Isotype).

Distribution. India (Northwest Himalaya) [Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Olonova (pers. comm.) doubts that this species, at least in its strict sense, occurs in India.

478. Poa bactriana Roshev., Bot. Mater. Gerb. Glavn. Bot. Sada RSFSR 4: 93. 1923

Poa bactriana Roshev. ssp. glabriflora (Roshev. ex Ovcz.) Tzvelev, Novosti Sist. Vyssh. Rast. 10: 96. 1973

Poa bulbosa var. glabriflora Roshev. ex Ovcz., Fl. Turkmen. 1(2): 143. 1932 Lectotype: N. Desyatova [N. Dessinatoff 1398]; 25 Jun 1913; [Tadzhikistan]: Iter ad distr. Lectotype. V. Lipsky; ; Turkmenistan: Gissar Range southern slope, Pyanjkhan, 7800 ft (LE; ILT: K-969/64, LE) LT cited by Tzvelev, Zlaki SSSR 450 (1976).

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir [Afghanistan, China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006). Taxonomic editor Soreng has investigated the lectotypification of P. bulbosa var. glabriflora. He notes that Tzvelev (Zlaki SSSR p 450, 1976), cited the Desyatova specimen as the holotype of P. glabriflora Roshev. ex Ovcz., and therefore he (Soreng) takes this to be the lectotype. Roshevits did not cite any material. OM: S. Nevski 464; 27 Jun 1931; [Uzbekistan] Turkomania orientalis: In regione subalpina montium Kuhitang supra pagum Chodsha-i-fil (K-67, K-68) K-67 was annotated as P. glabriflora by Roshevits in 1931, but this specimen keys to P. bactriana subsp. drobovi in Tzvelev (1976); fide RJS 2004.

479. Poa bucharica Roshev., Bot. Mater. Gerb. Glavn. Bot. Sada RSFSR 4: 94. 1923 ssp. *bucharica Type. LT: V. Lipskii; 2 Aug 1896; Afghanistan: Bukhara, southern slope of Gissar range, upper reaches of Sio River, 10000 ft (LE; ILT: K). LT: cited by Tzvelev, Zlaki SSSR p. 462 (1976).

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [Afghanistan, China].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006).

480. Poa bucharica Roshev. ssp. karateginensis (Roshev. ex Ovcz.) Tzvelev, Novosti Sist. Vyss. Rast. 11: 28. 1974

Poa karateginensis Roshev. ex Ovcz., Izv. Tadzh. Bazy Akad. Nauk. SSSR 1(1): 12, 26. 1933. Type: Tajikistan: Buchara, Nusratabadskij Range, Karategin, Karashibet glacier, 3000 m, 3–15 Aug 1896, V. Lipski. HT: LE; IT: K, LE

Poa suruana H. Hartmann, Candollea 39(6): 516–519. f. 1. 1984. Type: India: Karakorum, Skardu, Suru, Sanmodagsa (Gulmatungo) 12500 ft.; August 27; 1976; H. Hartmann 2873 (G).

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [China].

Habit. Perennial.

481. Poa bulbosa L. var. vivipara Koeler, Descr. Gram. 189. 1802

Poa bulbosa L. ssp. vivipara (Koeler) Arcang., Comp. Fl. Ital. 785. 1882

Paneion bulbosum var. viviparum (Koeler) Lunell, Amer. Midl. Naturalist 4: 222. 1915

Poa bulbosa L. forma vivipara (Koeler) Maire, Fl. Afrique N. 3: 86. 1855

Type. Prope Moguntiam [Mainz, Germany] in arenosis.

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir [Afghanistan, China, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that possibly all collections in India are more or less viviparous, and doubts that any representatives of P. bulbosa var. bulbosa occur there. Bor (1960, p. 556) also indicates “almost invariably found as var. vivipara”.

482. Poa burmanica Bor, Kew Bull. 3: 141. 1948.

Type. Myanmar: Kachin State, Myitkyina Distr., Hpimaw Pass, 11,000 ft, 6 Aug. 1929, Sukoe 10074 (K).

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Sikkim, Uttarakhand [Bhutan, China, Myanmar].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Specimen records for India listed by Nautiyal and Gaur (2017). This species is also accepted by Zhu et al. (2006) in the Flora of China.

483. Poa calliopsis Litw. ex Ovcz., Izv. Tadzhik. Bazy Bot. 1: 11, 18. 1933

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir [Bhutan, China, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006).

484. Poa compressa L., Sp. Pl. 1: 69. 1753

Type. “Habitat in Europae & Americae septentrionalis siccis, muris, tectis.” Lectotype: Herb. Linn. No. 87.41 (LINN). LT designated by Soreng in Cafferty et al. (ed.), Taxon 49: 255. 2000.

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir [China].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006).

Distribution. Sikkim [Bhutan, China].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006).

488. Poa eleanorae Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 142. 1948

Type. H.A. Cummins; "Laid in" 13 Jun 1894; India: Northeast Sikkim. K000789631.

Distribution. Sikkim, Uttarakhand [Bhutan, Nepal].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960), and Nautiyal and Gaur (2017).

489. Poa falconeri Hook. f. ex Stapf, Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 342. 1896

Syntypes. Falconer; 10 Aug. 1870–1871; Garwahl, 12–13000 ft (K000789637; IST: K000789636) [Jumnotri to Kasauli, Uttar Pradesh to Himachal Pradesh]; Duthie 288; 16 Aug. 1983; India: Uttar Pradesh: Tihri-Garwhal, in Nila Valley 12–13,000 ft (K000789635).

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [Pakistan, Nepal].

Habit. Perennial.

490. Poa gamblei Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 144. 1948

Type. India: Madras, Nilgiris Distr. Ootacamund, 7000 ft, Sep 1886, J.S. Gamble 18129 (K000789628).

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Tamil Nadu.

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960).

491. Poa gammieana Hook. f. ex Stapf, Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 345. 1896

Type. India: Sikkim, Tankra Mountains, alt. 12000 ft.; August 5, 1892; G.A. Gammie 641 (HT: (K000789632).

Distribution. Assam, Sikkim, Uttarakhand [Bhutan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960), and Nautiyal and Gaur (2017).

492. Poa garhwalensis D.C. Nautiyal & R.D. Gaur, J. Bombay Nat. Hist. Soc. 96(2): 285. 1999.

Type. Jammu-Kashmir: NW Himalaya, Leptal, 4000m, 4 Aug 1996; D.C. Nautiyal (GUH-13501A).

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir, Uttarakhand.

Habit. Perennial.

493. Poa glauca Vahl, Fl. Dan. 6(17): 3, pl. 964. 1790.

Poa araratica s. auct., non Trautv.

Poa sterilis M. Bieb., Fl. Taur.-Caucas. 1: 62. 1808. Type: “Habitat in tauriae collibus apricis sterilibus [Crimea].” (LE).

Type. “Legi tantummodo in paroecia Vang (Valders) ad pedes montium, in Finmarkia non frequens.”

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Bihar, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Uttarakhand [China, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that the specialist in this group of Poa (sect. Stenopoa), M.V. Olonova, now considers P. araratica to be a taxonomic synonym of Poa glauca Vahl, but probably does not extend to India. The Central Asian plants may be better treated as Poa glauciculmis Ovcz. More research is needed. Certainly the taxonomy of this section is complex; see (Zhu et al. 2006). Poa glauca is circumboreal and also occurs in S America. Poa sterilis was accepted as a separate species by Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006), but now is considered a synonym of P. glauca s.l. or possibly P. nemoraliformis and almost certainly does not occur in India.

494. Poa harae Rajbh., Acta Phytotax. Geobot. 39(1–3): 55. 1988

Type. Nepal: Sagarmatha Zone, Solukhumbu Distr., Denikharka (Dambuk) – Yurigolcha, 4600m, on grassy slope, 23 Aug 1985; Rajbandari 61665 (TI, KATH).

Distribution. Uttarakhand [Nepal].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Not listed for China by Zhu et al. (2006).

495. Poa himalayana Nees, Syn. Pl. Glumac. (Steudel) 1: 256. 1854

Poa stewartiana Bor, Kew Bull. 1951: 185. 1951. Type: India: Jaunsar District, Mandali, 6400 ft.; May 5, 1897; J.F. Duthie 19777 (K).

Type. Nepal, Lectotype: India: Uttar Pradesh, Mussooree, Shalma; Royle 163 on 187/163 (LIV-12514). LT designated by Noltie in Edinburgh J. Bot. 57(2): 289. 2000.

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Uttarakhand, Uttar Pradesh [Pakistan, Nepal, Tibet, China].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Nautiyal and Gaur (2017). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Poa himalayana sensu Bor is Poa rajbandari; see Noltie (2000). Poa stewartiana Bor is Poa himalayana.

496. Poa hirtiglumis Hook. f. ex Stapf, Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 343–344. 1896

Type. India: Sikkim: Donkaih Pass, alt. 18000 ft.; September 9, 1849; Herb. Ind. Or. J.D. Hooker & Thomson s.n. (K).

Distribution. Assam, Sikkim, Uttarakhand [Bhutan, Nepal].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Nautiyal and Gaur (2017).

497. Poa hylobates Bor, Bull. Bot. Surv. Ind. 7: 132. 1965

Type. Nepal: near Tarakoti, Bheri River, 10500 ft, grassy clearings in mixed forest, 13 July 1952; Polunin, Sykes & Williams 2445 (K, BM).

Distribution. Uttarakhand [China, Nepal].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. This species is also reported for China by Zhu et al. (2006).

498. Poa infirma Kunth, Nov. Gen. Sp. [H.B.K.] 1: 158 (ed. qto.). 1816

Catabrosa thomsonii Stapf ex Hook. f., Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 311. 1896 (as “thomsonii”). Type: China: Xizang, Nubra Valley, alt. 10000–11000 ft.; T. Thomson s.n.

Poa annua L. ssp. exilis Tomm. ex Freyn, Verh. K.K. Zool.-Bot. Ges. Wien 27: 469. 1878 (“1877”). Type: Langs der Kust von Fasana bis Medolino; auch auf S. Marina; 1872; Tommasini s.n.

Type. Colombia; August, 1801; Humboldt & Bonpland 134 (P). “Crescit in frigidis regni Novogranatensis, inter Fonibon, Suba et Santa Fe de Bogota, 1360 hexap.”

Distribution. Bilaspur, Uttarakhand. [Introduced. Widespread in Europe and North America].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Nautiyal and Gaur (2017).

499. Poa kanaii Rajbh., Acta Phytotax. Geobot. 39(1–3): 58. 1988

Type. Nepal: Mustang Distr., Thourungse, 4600 m, in open place, 25 Jul 1983; Rajbhandari 8356 (TI, KATH).

Distribution. Uttarakhand [Nepal].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Not listed for China by Zhu et al. (2006).

500. Poa khasiana Stapf, Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 343. 1896

Lectotype. Designated by Bor, Bombay Natur. Hist. Soc. J. 50: 831 (1952), without indication of herb. As in the protolog, this was originally det as “P. himalayana Nees”. Stapf’s figures pinned on illustrate the LT, K000789598.

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Meghalaya, Nagaland, Sikkim, Uttarakhand, West Bengal [China, Myanmar, Nepal].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. See also Nautiyal and Gaur (2017) for additional discussion of this species.

501. Poa koelzii Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 139–140. 1948

Poa albertii Regel ssp. kunlunensis (N.R. Cui) Olonova & G.H. Zhu, Flora of China 22: 308. 2006

Poa festucoides Lam. ssp. kunluensis N.R. Cui, Acta Botanica Boreali-Occidentalia Sinica 7(2): 97, f. 8. 1987, nom. hom. illeg.

Type. India: Kashmir, Tsakzhun Tso, Ladak, alt. 15000 ft.; July 20, 1931; Walter Koelz 2385 (holotype: K000789620).

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Ladakh, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. See discussion in Nautiyal and Gaur (2017).

502. Poa labulensis Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 138. 1948

Poa albertii Regel ssp. labulensis (Bor) Olonova & G.H. Zhu, Fl. China 22: 309. 2006

Type. Kashmir: Lingti, Lahul, alt. 12000 ft.; June 29, 1941; N.L. Bor 15024 (K).

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Uttarakhand [China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records for India confirmed by M. Olonova. Specimens for Uttarakhand cited by Nautiyal and Gaur (2017).

503. Poa lhasaensis Bor, Bull. Bot. Surv. India 7: 132. 1965

Poa jaunsarensis Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 143. 1948. Type: India: Kumaon, Kutti Yangti Valley, Byans, 12000–13000 ft.; July 30, 1886; J.F. Duthie 6224 (K000789644).

Type. China: Xizang: Lhasa, 10000 ft., Sep 1904 Collector and Number: Walton s.n. (K).

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [Pakistan, China, Nepal].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records for Uttar Pradesh and Nepal fide Naithani (1990). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Poa jaunsarensis was accepted as Poa lhasaensis Bor by Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006), but this is considered tentative.

504. Poa litvinoviana Ovcz., Izv. Tadzhik. Bazy Bot. 1: 22. 1933

Poa glauca Vahl ssp. litwinowiana (Ovcz.) Tzvelev, Novosti Sist. Vyssh. Rast. 11: 32. 1974. Type: USSR, Tadzhikistan; Tajikistan: Pamiro-Alaj, Tian Shan, distr. Matscha, inter rupibus in montibus Zeravschanicis pr. glaciem zeravschanicum, 4500–4700 m, 16 July 1927, Drobov 354 (LE).

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

505. Poa mairei Hack., Repert. Spec. Nov. Regni Veg. 12(333–335): 387. 1913

Poa pseudo-pratensis Hook. f., Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 340. 1896, non Beyer, 1891 nec Scribn. & Rydb., 1896. Syntypes: Nepal; Wallich s.n. Sikkim and Western Bhutan, alt. 10000–12000 ft.; J.D. Hooker s.n. Sine loc; Cummins s.n.

Poa patens Keng ex Keng f., Acta Botanica Yunnanica 4(3): 276–277. 1982. Type: China: Yunnan; Yulong Shan, eastern slopes of mount Dyinaloko, northern peak of Likang Snow Range, 1923, J.F. Rock 10427 (HT: US-1214301)

Poa ludens R.R. Stewart, Brittonia 5(4): 420. 1945, nom. nov. for Poa pseudo-pratensis Hook. f.

Type. China; Yunnan, pr. Tong-Tchouan, 1910, R.P. Maire 6992, ser. B (HT: W).

Distribution. Assam, Jammu and Kashmir, Punjab, Sikkim [Bhutan, China, Nepal].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006).

506. Poa nemoraliformis Roshev., Bot. Mater. Gerb. Bot. Inst. Komarova Akad. Nauk SSSR 11: 30. 1949.

Syntypes. India, Himachal Pradesh, Bor. or Poa relaxa Ovcz., Izv. Tadzh. Bazy Akad. Nauk. SSSR 1(1): 20, f. 2. 1933. Type: Tajikistan: western Zeravshan range, near Mar-guzarsky Lake, stony screes along NW slope of Mun-Kua Mt., 2900 m, 20 Aug. 1932. P. Ovchinnikov & A. Slobodov 1257.

Distribution. West Himalaya [China].

Habit. Perennial.

507. Poa nemoralis L., Sp. Pl. 1: 69. 1753

Type. “Habitat in Europa ad radices montium umbrosas.” Lectotype = “Gramen paniculatum angusti-folium Alpin. Locutis rarioribus et angustioribus non aristatis” in Scheuchzer, Agrostographia Helv. Prodr., 18. t. 2. 1708. LT designated by Soreng in Cafferty et al. (ed.), Taxon 49: 255. 2000. Epitype: Sweden. Uppland: Danmark Parish, Linnés Hammarby; June 14, 1933; Hylander s.n. (BM). Epitype designated by Soreng, R. & Edmondson, J. in Cafferty et al. (ed.), Taxon 49: 255. 2000.

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Sikkim, Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, West Bengal [Bhutan, China, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

508. Poa nepalensis (Wall. ex Griseb.) Wall. ex Duthie, List Grasses N.W. India 40. 1883 var. *nepalensis

Poa annua L. var. nepalensis Wall. ex Griseb., Nachr. Königl. Ges. Wiss. Georg-Augusts-Univ. 75. 1868. Lectotype: Strachey & Winterbottom 13, India orientali: Ku-maon, Binsar, 2300 m (K; ILT; BM)

Poa nephelophila Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 140. 1948

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Sikkim, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [Bhutan, China, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that the lectotype of P. annua var. nepalensis was designated by Bor (1952) without indication of herbarium. The K specimen was cited as the holotype by Cope (1982) and by Rajbhandari (1991). Lectotype here designated (refined), K000789542 = p.p. "a", by R.J. Soreng per annotation 2010 on specimen. (p.p. "b", is Poa setulosa Bor.) The placement of P. nephelophila in synonymy here follows Bor (1960) and Nautiyal and Gaur (2017).

509. Poa nitide-spiculata Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 139. 1948

Type. India: Sikkim Himalaya, Valley running into Teesta from West, Tangu, alt. 13500–14000 ft.; July 13, 1903; F.E. Younghusband s.n. (K000789633).

Distribution. Sikkim [China, Nepal].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records for Sikkim and Nepal fide Naithani (1990).

510. Poa pagophila Bor, Fl. Iranica 70: 38. 1970

Poa pagophila Bor, Kew Bull. 1949: 239. 1949, nom. inval., without Latin. Type: Sikkim: Yeumtang, 4600 m, 6 Sept. 1849, Hooker f. s.n. (HT: K000789639; IT: GOET-006888)

Poa flexuosa sensu Stapf, Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 342. 1896, non Sm., 1800, nec Wahlb., 1814

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir, Sikkim, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [Bhutan, China, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Bor's 1949 publication of P. pagophila was invalid, lacking a Latin description. Bor cited only the English description of P. flexuosa sensu Stapf. The Latin description was provided by Bor (1970), p. 38. Stapf clearly attributed P. flexuosa to Wahlberg.

511. Poa palustris L., Syst. Nat., ed. 10. 2: 874. 1759

Poa serotina Ehrh., Beitr. Naturk. (Ehrhart) 6: 83. 1791, nom. nud.; Ehrh. ex Hoffm., Fl. Germ. 1: 299. 1806. Type: Upsaliae

Type. "Habitat [in Helvetiae, Italiae paludibus.] Sp. Pl., ed. 2. 1: 99. 1762." Lectotype: Herb. Linn. No. 87.21 (LINN). LT designated by Soreng in Cafferty et al. (ed.), Taxon 49: 256. 2000.

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir, Uttarakhand [China, Pakistan]. Introduced; native to temperate regions of the Northern Hemisphere.

Habit. Perennial.

Lectotype. J.D. Hooker & Thomson, Herb. Ind. Or. Hf. & T. 15, West Himalaya: Kashmire, Valley north of Chamba, 3–3500 m (K000789594; ILT; BM) LT designated by Bor B.N.H.S.J. 50: 835 (1952), without indication of herb.

Syntype. India: Kumaon, Dugli, alt. 10500 ft.; R. Strachey & J.E. Winterbottom 11 (as P. serotina) (K; IST: BM).

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [Afghanistan, Bhutan, China, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

514. Poa polyneuron Bor, Kew Bull. 1952: 223. 1952

Type. India: Sikkim, Natu La, 12800 ft.; June 23, 1945; N.L. Bor & Kiratram 20685 (K000789638).

Distribution. Sikkim [China].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006).

515. Poa poophagorum Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 143. 1948 (as “poiphagorum”)

Poa albertii Regel ssp. poophagorum (Bor) Olonova & G.H. Zhu, Fl. China 22: 308. 2006

Type. India: Sikkim, Temu La, alt. 16000 ft.; 1912; Rohmoo Lepcha 374 (K).

Distribution. Sikkim, Uttarakhand [China, Nepal].

Habit. Not reported.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that this species was recognized at the subspecific level by Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006) as P. albertii ssp. poophagorum, but more recently has been accepted as a species.

516. Poa pratensis L., Sp. Pl. 1: 67–68. 1753 ssp. pratensis, nom. cons.

Type. “Habitat in Europae pratis fertilissimis.” Conserved Type: Russia. Prov. Sanct-Petersburg, 5 km australi-occidentem versus a st. viae ferr. Mga, pratulum ad ripam dextram fl. Mga, 26 Jun 1997, Tzvelev N-257 (BM-000576302). Type designated by Soreng & Barrie in Taxon 48: 157. 1999.

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Meghalaya [Afghanistan, Bhutan, China, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan, Sri Lanka].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that this species is widely seeded for lawns and pastures in cool temperate regions. It is presumably naturalized in India.

517. Poa pratensis L. ssp. alpigena (Lindm.) Hiitonen, Suom. Kasvio 205. 1933

Poa alpigena Lindm., Svensk Fanerogamflora 91. 1918. Based on “P. pratensis var. alpigena” Fr. ex Blytt, nom. illeg. superfl. for “P. pratensis var. iantha” Laest.

Poa pratensis L. var. alpigena Fr. ex Blytt, Norg. Flora 130. 1861. Type: “P. prat. Alpigena Fries Herbar. Norm. Fasc. 9.n. 93.1.p. prat. Alpestris Fries Summa Veget. P. 76. P. Prat. ð. Iantha Blytt l.c.”

Poa pratensis L. var. iantha Laest., Kongl[iga]. Vetenskaps Academiens Handlingar 1822: 329. 1822

Poa poophagorum Bor var. lanata Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 143. 1948. Type: China: Tibet, Rongshar Valley, alt. 12000 ft.; Hingston s.n. (K).

Distribution. Sikkim [China, Nepal (in Naithani as ssp. staintonii)].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006). alpina

518. Poa pratensis L. ssp. angustifolia (L.) Gaudin, Agrost. Helv. 1: 214. 1811

Poa angustifolia L., Sp. Pl. 1: 67. 1753. Type: “Habitat in Europa ad agrorum versuras.”

Poa pratensis L. var. angustifolia (L.) Sm., Fl. Brit. 105. 1800

Distribution. India [Afghanistan, Bhutan, China, Nepal, Pakistan]. Naturalized and possibly native; native to Europe and west and central Asia.

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that this name is widely misapplied to Poa pratensis ssp. pratensis; it could be in India, but the identifications should be checked.

519. Poa pratensis L. ssp. irrigata Lindb., Schedae Plantae Fenniae Exsiccatae 2: 20. 1916

Poa irrigata Lindm., Botaniska Notiser 1905: 88, f. 1. 1905. (Bot. Not.), nom. incorrect as applied by the author, taxonomically superfl.; Poa rigens Hartm. 1820 cited as fo. within, see Art. 52 and 52.3. Isotypes: Ehrhart; Scandinavia: Upsaliae (LE) equals P. humilis Ehrh., nom. nud., P. humilis Ehrh. ex Hoffm. Ehrhart spec. B; 1 Oct 1893; Scandinavia: Upsala (LE)

Poa subcaerulea Sm., Engl. Bot. 14: t. 1004. 1802. Type: England: Anglesea (on the Mountains of Westmoreland and Cumberland); Rev. H. Davies s.n.

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir. Naturalized; native to Eurasia.

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that this is a common lawn grass and sometimes pasture grass, and is widely seeded. This is the currently accepted name for Poa humilis, and for Poa subcaerulea as when treated as subspecies of Poa pratensis L.

520. Poa pratensis L. ssp. pruinosa (Korotky) Dickoré, Stapfia 39: 173. 1995

Poa pruinosa Korotky, Repertorium Specierum Novarum Regni Vegetabilis 13: 291. 1914. (Repert. Spec. Nov. Regni Veg.) Type: M. Korotky et al. s.n.; 4 Jul 1912; Russia, Transbaical district, Regio lacorum Eravinensis, pr. p. Konstantinowka, pr. ripam fl. Choloj et lacos Brarun-Charga and Syntyr, in arenosis (Lectotype: LE) LT cited in Tzvelev, Zlaki SSSR 459 (1976).

Poa markgraffii H. Hartmann, Candollea 39(2): 514. f. 2. 1984. Type: India: Karakorum, Suru, Chellong Nalla, W Panikhar, 12000 ft.; H. Hartmann 2380 (G).

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006).

521. Poa pseudamoena Bor, Kew Bull. 1953: 276. 1953

Poa amoena Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 140. 1949, nom. later hom., non (Presl) Kunth, 1833. Type: India: Kumaon; R. Strachey 26/2 (K000789626).

Distribution. Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [China].

Habit. Annual or short-lived perennial.

Remarks. Record for Uttar Pradesh fide Naithani (1990), and for Uttarakhand fide Nautiyal and Gaur (2017).

522. Poa rajbandarii Noltie, Edinburgh J. Bot. 57(2): 288–289, f. 2M-P. 2000

Type. Sikkim: Phedang to Tsoka, S of Dzongri, 27°26'N, 88°10'E, 3500 m, 26 July 1992, Edinburgh Expedition to Sikkim and Darjeeling (ESIK) 748 (E00393984).

Distribution. Assam, Sikkim, West Bengal [Bhutan, China, Nepal].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Poa himalayana sensu Bor is Poa rajbhandari (see Noltie 2000). Taxonomic editor Soreng also notes that the situation is further confused by Nautiyal and Gaur (2017) accepting P. stewartiana.

523. Poa royleana Nees, Syn. Pl. Glumac. (Steudel) 1: 256. 1854

Type. 187/140; Mussooree (LIV (12941-I and 12941-II)[upper culm and base mounted separately] (photo K-969/176)).

Distribution. Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand.

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. This species is sometimes placed as a synonym of Poa annua, but taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Poa royleana Nees ex Steud. is not at all like P. annua. It is a robust perennial, and a very odd one at that; it is apparently very rare. See also Rajbhandari and Edmondson (1990). Regarding the type specimen Soreng observes that the K-969/176 photo shows that both parts I and II were originally mounted on one sheet belonging to Merseyside County Museums Herbarium LIVCM 1952-121-128H with the 187/140 Poa royleana - Mussooree tag and the Poa Royleana N. ab. E-- tag. The spikelets are shaped like Glyceria striata; the lemmas are (5)7-(9)veined, glabrous; the rachilla is round, smooth, glabrous; the lodicules have stiff hairs at the apex; the paleas are peculiar -- flanges appressed hispidulous, keels densely hispidulous, and between keels densely hispidulous; the caryopsis is glabrous, with a short round to ovate hilum; sheaths mostly closed ca. 1/2 the length.

524. Poa setulosa Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 142. 1948

Poa rhadina Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 138. 1948. Type: Tehri-Garwal, Jaulea bah, Sri-kanta, alt. 12000–13000 ft.; J.F. Duthie 265 (K000789593).

Type. India: Lower Kunawar; August 15, 1847; T. Thomson s.n. (K000789592).

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [Pakistan].

Habit. Annual or perennial.

Remarks. Records for Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, and Uttar Pradesh fide Naithani (1990). Nautiyal and Gaur (2017) separate P. rhadina from P. setulosa, and cite localities in Uttarakhand. Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006) place P. rhadina in synonymy as done here.

525. Poa sikkimensis (Stapf) Bor, Kew Bull. 1952: 130. 1952

Poa annua L. var. sikkimensis Stapf, Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 346. 1896.

Lectotype: India: Sikkim, Wallanchoon [Walungchung], 10000–12000 ft.; J.D. Hooker s.n. (K000808543). LT (called type) designated by N.L. Bor in Kew Bull. 1952: 130. 1952. (Accepted as Holotype by Rajbhandhari (1991), and as lectotype by Soreng annotation 2010).

Distribution. Assam, Jammu and Kashmir, Sikkim, Uttarakhand [Bhutan, China].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Bor annotated a different specimen as type in 1947 (K000808542), but later published the Wallanchoon specimen as the Type (Bor 1952). The latter was accepted as the holotype by Rajbhandhari (1991), and by Soreng in annotation.

526. Poa sinaica Steud., Syn. Pl. Glumac. 1: 256. 1854

Isotypes. In cacuminae montis St. Catharinae Arab.; May 19, 1835; Schimper Unio itiner. 326 (BM, K, S).

Distribution. India (West Himalaya) [Afghanistan, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that this species apparently reaches to Pakistan, it is mostly viviparous over much of its range, especially eastward, and is thus difficult to separate from Poa bulbosa subsp. vivipara. It has more elongated bulbs at the base of shoots, and longer ligules than P. bulbosa.

527. Poa stapfiana Bor, Kew Bull. 1949: 239. 1949

Poa tremula Stapf, Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 344. 1896, non Lam., 1791.

Syntypes: Temperate and Alpine Himalaya, from Kashmir, alt. 8000–15000 ft.; Jacquemont s.n. to Garhwal; Duthie s.n. Western Tibet, Ladakh; Thomson s.n., Schlagintweit s.n.

Poa stapfiana Bor var. micranthera (Stapf) Bor, J. Bombay Nat. Hist. Soc. 50: 827. 1952

Poa tremula Stapf var. micranthera Stapf, Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 345. 1896. Syntypes: India: Kashmir, Palgam, 12000–13000 ft.; September 4, 1876; C.B. Clarke s.n., Duthie s.n.

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Sikkim, Uttarakhand [China, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Soreng observes that there are no worthy varieties here; all is one species. However, the Jacquemont collection, listed as a syntype of P. tremula is actually P. hirtiglumis. The lectotype designated by Rajbhandari (1991) is rejected for P. tremula, as it was only cited by Stapf as syntype of the var. micranthera.

528. Poa supina Schrad., Fl. Germ. (Schrader) 1: 289. 1806

Poa variegata Haller f., Cat. Pl. Helv. 38. 1800, nom. illeg., non Lam., 1791

Poa ustulata S.E. Fröhner, Botanische Jahrbücher für Systematik, Pflanzengeschichte und Pflanzengeographie 88: 437. 1968. (Bot. Jahrb. Syst.). Type: Russia: Siberia: Pamiro-Alaj mountains, Alajica valley, Tengiz-bai pass, alpine swales, slope toward Darant-Kurgan, 23 June 1931, S. Lipschitz 122 (HT: MW; IT: LE)

Poa supina Schrad. ssp. ustulata (S.E. Fröhner) Å. Löve & D. Löve, Botaniska Notiser 128(4): 498. 1975[1976]. (Bot. Not.)

Type. In summis alpibus Salisburgensibus; Mielichhofer s.n.

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [Afghanistan, China, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records for Himachal Pradesh and Jammu and Kashmir fide Naithani (1990). Nautiyal and Gaur (2017) document specimen for Uttarakhand.

529. Poa szechuensis Rendle, J. Bot. 46: 173. 1908 var. szechuensis

Poa gracillima Rendle, Journal of the Linnean Society, Botany 36(254): 424–425. 1904, nom. illeg. hom., non Vasey 1893. Type: China; Sichuan, Emei Shan, Faber 1185 (HT: K000789505)

Poa tibeticola Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 139. 1948. Type: China: Tibet, Khambajong; September 7, 1903; F.E. Younghusband s.n. (K000789482).

Poa chumbiensis Noltie, Edinburgh Journal of Botany 57(2): 282, f. 1I–L. 2000. Type: China: Xizang: Chumbi Valley, Yatung, 10000 ft, 18 April 1945, Bor & Kirat Ram 20148 (K)

Distribution. Sikkim, Uttarakhand [Bhutan, China, Nepal].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Records from Bor (1960) and Zhu et al. (2006).

530. Poa szechuensis Rendle var. rossbergiana (K.S. Hao) Soreng & G.H. Zhu, Fl. China 22: 295. 2006

Poa rossbergiana K. S. Hao, Bot. Jahrb. Syst. 68(5): 581. 1938. Type: China; Qinghai, in der Nähe des Klosters Ta-schiu-sze, 4200 m, im Ja-he-mari-Gebirge, westlich von Tsi-gi-gan-ba, 9 Sep 1930, K.S. Hao 1197 (IT: NAS)

Poa rohmooana Noltie, Edinburgh Journal of Botany 57(2): 281–282, f. 1E–H. 2000. (Edinburgh J. Bot.). Type: Sikkim: Chugya, 15000 ft, 12 Nov. 1912, Rohmoo Lepcha 284 (HT: E)

Distribution. Sikkim [China].

Habit. Annual.

531. Poa trivialis L., Sp. Pl. 1: 67. 1753 ssp. *trivialis

Type. “Habitat in Europae pascuis.” Neotype: Hudson 16, Herb. Linn. No. 87.9 (LINN). Neotype designated by Soreng in Cafferty et al. (ed.), Taxon 49: 256. 2000.

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Tamil Nadu [Afghanistan, Bhutan, China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. All records for India fide Naithani (1990).

532. Poa trivialis L. var. glabra Döll, Rhein. Fl. 92. 1843.

Type. Not found.

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir.

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Record in India fide Naithani (1990). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Bor (1952, 1960) recognized this species, and Tzvelev (1983) says it is sometimes recognized. It has smoother sheaths than the typical variety.

533. Poa wardiana Bor, Kew Bull. 1948: 143. 1948

Type. India: Assam, Balipara Frontier Tract, Poshing La, 10000–12000 ft.; July 21, 1938; F. Kingdon-Ward 13990 (K000789597, ex DD).

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam [China].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Record for India fide Naithani (1990).

Polypogon* Desf., Fl. Atlant. 1: 66. 1798 (“1800”)

Type. Polypogon monspeliensis (L.) Desf. (as “monspeliense”) (Alopecurus monspeliensis L.).

534. Polypogon fugax Nees, Syn. Pl. Glumac. (Steudel) 1: 184. 1854

Polypogon higegaweri Steud., Syn. Pl. Glumac. 1: 422. 1854. Type: Japonica
Polypogon littoralis Sm. var. higegaweri (Steud.) Hook. f., Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker).
 7(22): 246. 1896

Type. Nepal.

Distribution. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Bihar, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Manipur, Meghalaya, Nagaland, Punjab, Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand [Afghanistan, Bhutan, China, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Annual.

535. Polypogon monspeliensis (L.) Desf., Fl. Atlant. 1: 67. 1798 var. *monspeliensis

Alopecurus monspeliensis L., Sp. Pl. 1: 61. 1753. Type: “Habitat Monspelii.” Lectotype:
 Herb. Linn. No. 82.6 (LINN). LT designated by Scholz in Cafferty et al. (ed.), Taxon 49: 245. 2000.

Phleum monspeliense (L.) Koeler, Descr. Gram. (Koeler) 57. 1802

Santia monspeliensis (L.) Parl., Fl. Palerm. 1: 73. 1845

Agrostis alopecuroides Lam., Tabl. Encycl. 1: 160. 1791. Type: “Ex Gallia & Europa australi.”

Phleum crinitum Schreb., Beschr. Graes. 1: 151. 1768

Polypogon flavescens J. Presl in C. Presl, Reliq. Haenk. 1(4–5): 234. 1830. Type: “Habitat in Peruvia.” Peru; Haenke s.n. (PR)

Distribution. Assam, Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Delhi, Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Jharkhand, Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Manipur, Meghalaya, Nagaland, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, West Bengal [China, Pakistan, Sri Lanka].

Habit. Annual.

536. Polypogon monspeliensis (L.) Desf. var. indicus Bhattacharya & S.K. Jain, Bull. Bot. Surv. India 25(1–4): 208. f. 1. 1985 (“1983”)

Type. India: Punjab, Ferozepore; S.l. s.n. (CAL).

Distribution. Assam, Bihar, Delhi, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Nagaland, Punjab, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh, West Bengal [Afghanistan, Sri Lanka].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Record for Punjab fide Naithani (1990).

537. Polypogon nilgiricus Kabeer & V.J. Nair, Nord. J. Bot. 25(1–2): 9, fig. 1. 2008

Type. India: Tamil Nadu, Nilgiri Hills, Manjakambai, alt. 3000 ft.; March 3, 2004; K. Althaft Ahamed Kabeer 117749 (CAL).

Distribution. Tamil Nadu.

Habit. Perennial.

538. Polypogon viridis (Gouan) Breistr., Bull. Soc. Bot. France 110 (Sess. Extraord. 89): 56. 1966 (“1963”)

Agrostis viridis Gouan, Hortus Monsp. 546. 1762. Type: France “Habitat au mont Saint Loup. Cum agrost. Ventricosa Altitudo prioris.” (P).

Agrostis semiverticillata (Forssk.) C. Chr., Dansk Bot. Ark. 4(3): 12. 1922

Phalaris semiverticillata Forssk., Fl. Aegypt.-Arab. 17. 1775. Type: “Rofettae & Kahirae frequens, Aprile ineunre florens, Naaejm.” Egypt: Rosetta and Cairo; April, 1762; Forsskal 63 (C).

Agrostis verticillata Vill., Prosp. Hist. Pl. Dauphiné (Villars) 16. 1779. Type: France.

Polypogon littoralis Sm. var. muticus Hook. f., Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 246.

1896. Type: India: Kunawur; Thomson s.n.

Distribution. Uttar Pradesh [Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Puccinellia Parl., Fl. Ital. 1: 366. 1848, nom. cons.

Type. Puccinellia distans (Jacq.) Parl. (Poa distans Jacq.) (type cons.).

For additional information see Liu et al. (2006) and Dickoré (1995). Dickoré notes several poorly known taxa from Karakorum that are not mentioned here.

539. Puccinellia distans (Jacq.) Parl., Fl. Ital. (Parlatore) 1: 367. 1848

Poa distans Jacq., Observ. Bot. (Jacquin) 1: 42. 1764, Type: “Habitat in Austria. D. Jacquin.” Lectotype: Austria. “Poa distans. triandra digyn. Crescit in fossis aquosis et locis humidis per Austriam." Herb. Jacquin fil. (W). LT designated by Cope in Cafferty et al. (ed.), Taxon 49: 255. 2000.

Atropis distans (Jacq.) Griseb., Fl. Ross. [Lebedour] 4: 388. 1852

Glyceria distans (Jacq.) Wahlenb., Fl. Upsal. 36. 1820

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

540. Puccinellia glauca (Regel) V.I. Krecz., Flora URSS 2: 484, pl. 36, f. 19. 1934

Atropis distans var. glauca Regel, Trudy Imperatorskago S.-Peterburgskago Botaničeskago Sada 7(2): 623. 1881. (Trudy Imp. S.-Peterburgsk. Bot. Sada). Type: P. Fedchenko s.n., 29 May 1869, Environs of Kalta-Kurgon, along the irrigation channel Narupai (LE) Puccinellia distans Parl. ssp. glauca (Regel) Tzvelev, Zlaki SSSR 507. 1976

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [Afghanistan, China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

541. Puccinellia himalaica Tzvelev, Bot. Mater. Gerb. Bot. Inst. Komarova Akad. Nauk S.S.S.R. 17: 66. 1955

Type. India: Kashmir, Soo Morari Peldo, Rupshu, alt. 12800 ft.; July 8, 1931; W. Koeltz 2216 (LE).

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir [Afghanistan, China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records for India fide Naithani (1990).

542. Puccinellia ladakhensis (H. Hartmann) Dickoré, Stapfia 39: 182. 1995

Poa ladakhensis H. Hartmann, Candollea 39(2): 510. f. 1. 1984. Type: India: Kashmir, Stokphu, alt. 14500 ft.; H. Hartmann 2614 (G).

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir.

Habit. Perennial.

543. Puccinellia minuta Bor, Nytt Mag. Bot., Oslo 1: 19, f. 8. 1952.

Puccinellia kashmiriana Bor, Kew Bull. 1953: 270–271. 1953. Type: India: Kashmir, Kamri Valley, near Kalapani, alt. 11200–12000 ft.; August 25, 1893; J.F. Duthie 12543 (K).

Type. Pakistan: Chitral distr.: Barum Gol, S. Barum Glacier, ca. 4500 m, 27 July 1950, P. Wendelbo s.n. (K).

Distribution. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir [Afghanistan, China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Records for India fide Naithani (1990). Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Dickoré (1995) recognized P. minuta with P. kashmiriana Bor as a synonym, a structure that we follow here. Liu et al. (2006) recognize P. minuta but do not mention P. kashmiriana.

544. Puccinellia stapfiana R.R. Stewart, Brittonia 5(4): 418. 1945

Glyceria pooides Stapf, Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 348. 1896 (as “poaeoides”), non Puccinellia pooides Keng, 1938. Type: China: Xizang, Rupchu, grassy plains at the head of Salt Lake; T. Thomson s.n., non Puccinellia pooides Keng, 1938

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

545. Puccinellia tenuiflora (Griseb.) Scribn. & Merr., Contr. U.S. Natl. Herb. 13: 78. 1910

Atropis tenuiflora Griseb., Fl. Ross. [Ledebour] 4(13): 389. 1852. Type: Russia: Siberia, Transbaical; Turczaninov s.n. (LE).

Distribution. India (West Himalaya) [China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. States in India not recorded. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Liu et al. (2006) include Iran but not Pakistan in the distribution of this species.

546. Puccinellia thomsonii (Stapf) R.R. Stewart, Brittonia 5(4): 418. 1945 (as “thomsoni”)

Glyceria thomsonii Stapf, Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 347. 1896. Type: China: Xizang, Rupchu above Pugha, alt. 15500 ft.; T. Thomson s.n.

Atropis thomsonii (Stapf) Pamp., Fl. Caracorum 77. 1930

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Rostraria* Trin., Fund. Agrost. (Trinius) 149. 1820

Lectotype. Rostraria pubescens Trin., nom. illeg. (Bromus dactyloides Roth) (designated by Pfeiffer, Nomenclat. Bot. 2: 991. 1874).

547. Rostraria clarkeana (Domin) Holub, Folia Geobot. Phytotax. 9(3): 271. 1974

Koeleria clarkeana Domin, Biblioth. Bot. 14(Heft 65): 272. 1907. Type: India: Kashmir, Naosheva; 1876; C.B. Clarke 28155 (K).

Lophochloa clarkeana (Domin) Bor, Grasses Burma, Ceylon, India and Pakistan 445. 1960

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [Pakistan].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Record for Jammu and Kashmir fide Naithani (1990).

548. Rostraria cristata (L.) Tzvelev, Novosti Sist. Vyssh. Rast. 7: 47. 1971 (“1970”)

Festuca cristata L., Sp. Pl. 1: 76. 1753. Type: “Habitat in Lusitanae collibus sterilibus.”

Lectotype: Herb. Linn. No. 92.24 (LINN). LT designated by Sherif & Siddiqi in El-Gadi (ed.), Fl. Libya 145: 167. 1988.

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir [Pakistan].

Habit. Annual.

549. Rostraria pumila (Desf.) Tzvelev, Novosti Sist. Vyssh. Rast. 7: 48. 1971 (“1970”)

Avena pumila Desf., Fl. Atlant. 1: 103. 1798. Lectotype: Morocco; 1806; Broussonet 296 (LE). (Vide Henderson & Schäfer, Bot. J. Linn Soc. 141: 130. 2003.)

Lophochloa pumila (Desf.) Bor, Grasses Burma, Ceylon, India and Pakistan 445. 1960.

Type: Pakistan: Rawalpindi; R.R. Stewart 23443

Distribution. Rajasthan [Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

Sclerochloa* P. Beauv., Ess. Agrostogr. 97, 177. 1812

Lectotype. Sclerochloa dura (L.) P. Beauv. (Cynosurus durus L.). (vide Pfeiffer, Nomenclat. Bot. 2: 1103. 1874).

Trisetum cavanillesii Trin., Mém. Acad. Imp. Sci. St.-Pétersbourg, Sér. 6, Sci. Math. 1: 63. 1830 (1831)

Distribution. Northwest India [Pakistan].

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. States in India not recorded. Taxonomic editor Soreng cites unpublished phylogenetic data suggesting that this species may be misplaced in Trisetaria.

Trisetopsis Röser & A. Wölk, Schlechtendalia 25: 57. 2013

Type. Trisetopsis elongata (Hochst. ex A. Rich.) Röser & A. Wölk (Danthonia elongata Hochst. ex A. Rich.).

Notes. Taxonomic editor Soreng notes that Trisetopsis Röser & A. Wölk (2013) and Tzveleviochloa Röser & A. Wölk (2017) were described to accommodate 28 and 3 species formerly treated as Helictotrichon. There is a confusing array of named species along the Himalayan front and extending into the Hengduan Shan of China, for which (in his opinion) there is no adequate taxonomic account. Helictotrichon schmidii and H. polyneurum belong to this group, but there is no newer combination or synonymy for these two, although Röser may have placed them in synonymy of others. These are all species with lax leaves unlike Helictotrichon s.s. There are no species of Helictotrichon s.s. in India. See also discussions in Wölk and Röser (2013, 2014, 2017) and Wölk et al. (2015).

555. Trisetopsis aspera (Munro ex Thwaites) Röser & A. Wölk, Taxon 66(1): 38. 2017

Subfamily Aristidoideae Caro, 1982

Annuals or perennials, generally with slender leaves. The spikelets have one flower subtended by glumes that are generally longer than the flower, and may be cylindrical or laterally compressed. Lemmas are terete and generally leathery, bearing three awns; the latter condition is synapomorphic for the subfamily. Awns may be free or fused.

While plants in Aristidoideae appear similar to Stipeae, many morphological characters keep them out of the Pooideae (e.g., presence of mcirohairs, lack of an epiblast in the embryo, C<sub>4</sub> photosynthesis in two of the genera (Kellogg 2015b; Kellogg and Campbell 1987)). Molecular data place the subfamily firmly in the PACMAD clade (Barker et al. 1995; Clark et al. 1995; Grass Phylogeny Working Group 2001; Grass Phylogeny Working Group II 2012). The position of the subfamily within PACMAD is unclear. While GPWG II (Grass Phylogeny Working Group II 2012) placed it sister to all the remaining PACMAD subfamilies (i.e. PCMAD), Cotton et al. (2015) place it sister to the clade comprised of Chloridoideae+Danthonioideae+Arundinoideae+Micrairoideae. Teisher et al. (2017) and Saarela et al. (2018) find that placement of the clade is ambiguous, with nearly equal support for placement sister to PCMAD, sister to CMAD, or sister to Panicoideae.

The three genera of Aristidoideae are each monophyletic, with Sartidia sister to Stipagrostis and Aristida sister to the two together (Cerros Tlatilpa et al. 2011).

Subfamily Panicoideae A. Braun, 1864

Annuals or perennials, caespitose, rhizomatous, or stoloniferous, often with branched culms. Leaves, inflorescences, and spikelets variable. Lodicules 2, thick, fleshy. Caryopsis with a punctate hilum. Embryo with a scutellar cleft and with the embryonic leaf margins overlapping.

This large subfamily includes more than a quarter of the species in the family and in its current circumscription encompasses a broad range of variation. Much of this variability is due to the diverse morphology of the tribes Centotheceae, Chasmanthieae, and Tristachyideae, which have only recently been included as part of Panicoideae (Morrone et al. 2012; Sánchez-Ken and Clark 2010). In contrast, the core Panicoideae includes Paspaleae, Andropogoneae, and Paniceae; together this group has been recognized since the work of Robert Brown (1810; 1814). Members of the core all have two flowered spikelets which are dorsiventrally compressed. The distal flower is generally bisexual and the proximal one is either staminate or sterile. Disarticulation is below the glumes. All these spikelet characters appear to be synapomorphic for the clade comprising these three large tribes (Kellogg 2015b).

Type. "Habitat [in Jamaica]." LT: P. Browne s.n.; Jamaica (LINN-75.9, second fertile culm from the left) LT designated by Guedes, Taxon 25: 513 (1976), and earlier discussed by Jovet & Guedes, Taxon 21: 546 (1972); formally ruled on by Nom. Comm., Taxon 32: 281 (1983).

Distribution. Andaman and Nicobar Islands, Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Bihar, Gujarat, Haryana, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Karnataka, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Meghalaya, Odisha, Punjab, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh, West Bengal [Pakistan]. Pantropical.

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. This species is often confused with P. vaginatum. Taxonomic editor Zuloaga notes that "Bor (1960) cited P. distichum in India and Pakistan, and included in the species several synonyms. Also he correctly differentiated P. distichum from P. vaginatum by a hairy upper glume in the former species." Zuloaga concludes that it is likely that P. distichum is present in India.

Tribe Jansenelleae Voronts., 2020

Plant annual. Ligule membranous. Inflorescence dense, capitate, with short branches. Spikelets laterally compressed. Glumes acuminate or awned, lemmas awned. Hilum punctate. Leaf anatomy  $C_3$ .

The two genera of Jansenelleae were provisionally placed in Tristachyideae by Kellogg (2015b), pending further data. However, recent molecular phylogenetic work (Bianconi et al. 2020) has shown that they are sisters, and form a clade that itself is sister to Andropogoneae s.l. Species of Jansenelleae appear to be  $C_3$  and thus help illuminate the origin and development of the  $C_4$  pathway in their sister tribe Andropogoneae (Bianconi et al. 2020).

Tribe Andropogoneae Dumort., 1824

Plants with complex inflorescences, often highly branched and/or bracteate. Spikelets borne in pairs, one sessile and the other pedicellate, the two often differentiated in structure and function. Branches sometimes ending a spikelet morphologically identical to the pedicellate one so that the spikelets appear to be in triplets. Glumes firm to indurate, the lemma and palea generally hyaline. In most species other than those in Arundinella and Garnotia the rachis disarticulates between the spikelet pairs. Photosynthetic pathway C<sub>4</sub> NADP-ME subtype.

Subfamily Danthonioideae N.P. Barker & H.P. Linder, 2001

Danthonioideae includes 281 species described in the monograph by Linder et al. (2010). As such it is the only grass subfamily to have a complete species-level revision based on up-to-date phylogenetic data. The subfamily has no obvious morphological synapomorphy, although Verboom et al. (1994) have suggested that haustorial synergids may be universally shared and uniquely derived. However, this character is difficult to observe and has only been recorded for a subset of the genera. None of the species has any particular economic importance.

Taxonomic editor H. Peter Linder, University of Zurich, Switzerland.

Subfamily Chloridoideae Kunth ex Beilschm., 1833

Plants annual or perennial, rhizomatous, stoloniferous, or caespitose. Leaves, inflorescences, and spikelets variable, with no obvious shared morphological character. Glumes 2, disarticulation above the glumes.

Chloridoideae includes over 1700 species, of which all but two (the southern African Ellisochloa papposa and E. rangei) exhibiting C<sub>4</sub> photosynthesis and associated radiate chlorenchyma in the leaves (Peterson et al. 2011). Many chloridoids have characteristic microhairs in which the apical cell is enlarged and bulbous (VandenBorre and Watson 1997). Although the subfamily is definitely monophyletic, it is unclear which morphological characters are synapomorphic (Kellogg 2015b). Members of the subfamily are among the most drought-tolerant of the grasses, and a few (e.g. Oropetium spp., Sporobolus stapfianus) are so-called resurrection plants, which are able to dry out almost completely and then resume photosynthesis upon rewetting (VanBuren et al. 2015; Yobi et al. 2017). The subfamily includes few crop species, but Eragrostis tef (tef) and Eleusine coracana (finger millet) are particularly important in parts of Africa where productivity is critical in the face of drought. A set of phylogenetic studies by Peterson and colleagues (Peterson et al. 2007, 2010a, 2010b, 2011, 2012, 2014a; 2014b, 2015; 2016; Snow and Peterson 2012a, 2012b) has provided considerable insight into the phylogeny and generic limits in this subfamily.

Subfamily Micrairoideae Pilg., 1956

Micrairoideae is a subfamily with no obvious synapomorphies, although most species have spikelets with only two flowers (Kellogg 2015b). The ligule is a fringe of hairs. The genera are morphologically heterogeneous, and include both C<sub>3</sub> and C<sub>4</sub> species, some of which are adapted to forest shade and others to extreme drought (Hardion et al., 2017; Teisher et al. 2019).

Habit. Annual.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Teisher questions the interpretation of “Madras” in the description of the type. He notes that “the specimen is cited as part of a project on the Flora of Madras, and Madras is another name for Chennai, the capital of Tamil Nadu. However, I think it more likely refers to the historic Madras Presidency, which covered most of Southern India, including Kerala. Anamudi is a mountain in Kerala. Thus, I would recommend emending the type description, which would include Kerala and exclude the Tamil Nadu distribution.”

Habit. Annual or perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Teisher notes that Isachne dispar vars. dispar and villosa are treated as synonymys of I. globosa by Clayton et al (2006 onwards), whereas Iskandar and Veldkamp (2004) claim Isachne dispar is a synonym of Isachne pulchella Roth based on the type description. However, Prakash and Jain (1984) note that “Isachne dispar Trin.” in Indian Floras was misidentified throughout, and “the specimens which were assigned to I. dispar in Indian Herbaria and Floras actually belong either to I. globosa or to I. miliacea”.

Distribution. Kerala, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu [Sri Lanka].

Habit. Perennial.

Remarks. Taxonomic editor Teisher notes that “Prakash & Jain (1984) lump I. kunthiana var. latifolia with I. kunthiana on the grounds that the species is highly variable in size and shape, and the varieties were based on quantitative characters that blend together in the study of a larger number of specimens. In the original description, Hooker (1896) describes I. kunthiana var. latifolia as “almost intermediate between I. kunthiana and I. elatior”. Since the latter is treated as a synonym under I. kunthiana, I would be inclined to agree that var. latifolia should also be lumped (this is also the position taken by the World Grass Species Synonymy database, Clayton et al. 2002).”

This unfortunate confusion renders interpretations of historic references in the literature to this taxon difficult.

Subfamily Arundinoideae Kunth ex Beilschm., 1833

Plants perennial, from several meters tall and reed-like to only a few cm in height. Spikelets laterally compressed.

Arundinoideae has historically been a subfamily to accommodate misfit genera (Clayton and Renvoize 1986; Watson and Dallwitz 1992 onwards), but morphological and molecular phylogenetic analyses showed that the traditionally circumscribed subfamily was polyphyletic (Barker et al. 1995; Clark et al. 1995; Kellogg and Campbell 1987). Over the last several decades the subfamily has been reduced to a monophyletic core of genera. Surprisingly, despite the sharp reduction in genera in the subfamily, it still has no obvious morphological synapomorphy or even any general facies to help with recognition. The current circumscription of the subfamily follows Teisher et al. (2017) and Hardion et al. (2017).

Distribution. Andhra Pradesh, Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Bihar, Delhi, Goa, Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Karnataka, Kerala, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, Manipur, Meghalaya, Nagaland, Odisha, Punjab, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Tripura, Uttar Pradesh, West Bengal [Afghanistan, Bhutan, China, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan].

Habit. Tall perennial.

Danthonidium* C.E. Hubb., Hooker's Icon. Pl. 34: sub t. 3331. 1937

Type. Danthonidium gammiei (Bhide) C.E. Hubb. (Danthonia gammiei Bhide).

1502. Danthonidium gammiei (Bhide) C.E. Hubb., Hooker's Icon. Pl. 34: t. 3331. 1937

Danthonia gammiei Bhide, J. Proc. Asiatic Soc. Bengal (n.s.) 7(8): 513, 51. t. 6. 1912 (“1911”). Type: India: Bombay, Castle rock; October, 1902; G.A. Gammie s.n.

Type. India: Bombay Presidency, Castle Rock; October, 1902; Gammie in Herb. Econ. Bot. Bombay 15636 (K).

Distribution. Karnataka, Kerala, Maharashtra.

Habit. Annual.

Elytrophorus* P. Beauv., Essai Agrostor. 67. 1812

Type. Elytrophorus articulatus P. Beauv.

1503. Elytrophorus spicatus (Willd.) A. Camus, Fl. Indo-Chine [P.H. Lecomte et al.] 7: 547. 1923

Dactylis spicata Willd., Ges. Naturf. Ferunde Berlin Neue Schriften 3: 416. 1801.

Type: "Wachst an der malabarischen Kuste bei Tangore auf Reifsackern und wird von den Tamulen Wajel tenei genannt."

Sesleria spicata (Willd.) Spreng., Pl. Min. Cogn. Pug. 2: 21. 1815

Distribution. Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Himachal Pradesh, Gujarat, Jharkhand, Karnataka, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Manipur, Meghalaya, Nagaland, Odisha, Rajasthan, Sikkim, Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh, West Bengal [Bhutan, China, Myanmar, Nepal, Sri Lanka].

Habit. Annual.

Phragmites* Adans., Fam. Pl. (Adanson) 2: 34, 559. 1763

Type. Phragmites communis Trin. (Arundo phragmites L.).

1504. Phragmites australis (Cav.) Trin. ex Steud., Nomencl. Bot., ed. 2 (Steudel) 1: 143. 1840

Arundo australis Cav., Anales Hist. Nat. 1: 100. 1799. Type: "Se cria en el agua y a' la orilla del rio, que esta como media legua antes de llegar a la Bahia Botanica viendo de Jackson alli la cogio en abril, Don Luis Née."

Phragmites communis Trin., Fund. Agrost. (Trinius) 134. 1820

Arundo phragmites L., Sp. Pl. 1: 81. 1753. Type: "Habitat in Europae lacubus fluviiis."

Lectotype: Herb. Linn. No. 97.6 (LINN). LT designated by Clayton in Milne-Redhead and Polhill (ed.), Fl. Trop. E. Africa, Gramineae 1: 118. 1970.

Phragmites australis (Cav.) Trin. ex Steud. var. stenophylla (Boiss.) S.K. Jain & Doli Das, Indian Forester 99(8): 575. 1973

Phragmites communis Trin. var. stenophylla Boiss., Fl. Orient. (Boissier) 5: 563. 1884.

Syntypes: in arenosis saepius maritimis vel salsas; Heldr. s.n. Anatolia ad Smyrnam; Ky. s.n. Syria prope Tripoli; Bl. s.n. Egypt: Oasis Magna; Scheinfurth s.n. Assyria prope Mossul; Ky. s.n., Persia borealis in monte Elbrus; Ky. s.n. Persia borealis circa Tehran; Haussk. s.n.

Distribution. Jammu and Kashmir, Rajasthan [China, Pakistan].

Habit. Perennial.

1505. Phragmites karka (Retz.) Trin. ex Steud., Nomencl. Bot., ed. 2 (Steudel) 2: 324. 1841 var. *karka

Arundo karka Retz., Observ. Bot. (Retzius) 4: 21. 1786–1787. Type: “Dedit cl. Koenig.” India?; Koenig s.n. (LD).

Habit. Perennial.

1506. Phragmites karka (Retz.) Trin. ex Steud. var. cincta Hook. f., Fl. Brit. India (J.D. Hooker). 7(22): 305. 1896

Syntypes. India: Near Calcutta Salt Lakes; Kurz s.n. Mutlah; Clarke 24714.

Distribution. Andhra Pradesh, Kerala, West Bengal.

Habit. Perennial.

Acknowledgements

This project would not have been possible without the help of a highly skilled set of taxonomic editors. While each of them is listed with the section that they edited, we also acknowledge them here: Bambusoideae: Lynn G. Clark, Iowa State University. Oryzoideae: G. Anthony Verboom, University of Cape Town. Pooideae: Robert J. Soreng and Paul M. Peterson, Smithsonian Institution; Agrostis, Calamagrostis: Beata Paszko, Polish Academy of Sciences; Poa, Marina V. Olonova, Tomsk State University (Russia). Panicoideae: Fernando Zuloaga, Instituto de Botánica Darwinion; Paniceae: P. (Parigi) Venkateswara Prasanna, Botanical Survey of India, Alok R. Chorghe, National Museum of Natural History (New Delhi). Arundinoideae, Micrairoideae: Jordan Teisher, Drexel University. Chloridoideae: Paul M. Peterson, Smithsonian Institution; Eragrostis, Amanda Ingram, Wabash College, P. (Parigi) Venkateswara Prasanna, Botanical Survey of India, and Alok R. Chorghe, National Museum of Natural History (New Delhi); Tripogon, Alok R. Chorghe.

We thank Dr. Werner Greuter (B) for helpful discussion of nomenclatural problems. We also thank our editor at PhytoKeys, Maria Vorontsova, who has been a huge help in guiding this through to publication, and two anonymous reviewers who provided valuable detailed comments.

The early part of the work in generating the data was funded by Department of Biotechnology, Govt. of India, New Delhi. The final compilation and publication were supported by the Sehgal Foundation, and in part by the Chris Davidson Fund and a grant from the Office of the Principal Science Advisor to the Prime Minister, Government of India, for developing India's National Mission on Biodiversity and Human Well-being. Work in the Kellogg lab is supported by the US National Science Foundation.
